ECA SPURS MAJOR BATTLE IN SENATE

City Industries Calling Back 1,800

Business Picture Brightens

Pennsy Railroad Employs 300

Mansfield industries have called back approximately 800 furloughed workers and at least 1,000 more will be recalled next month, a survey showed today.

One of the leaders in the rehiring is the Dominion Electric plant which has hired back 200 employes since the company's vacation ended July 11. Dominion started its layoffs last November. Personnel Director Samuel Shapiro said today the company will recall more as business recovers.

"Right now the appliance industry is in its busy season filling fall and Christmas orders," he said.

There are plans at the Westinghouse plant to rehire at least 1,000 workers soon after the plant's two-week vacation, which ends Aug. 8.

J. H. Ashbaugh, vice-president of the corporation, said today that refrigerator assembly lines will go back to a two-shift work day and that the roaster line, resumed for a day previous to the annual vacation, will be continued when the employes return after the vacation.

FIGURE INDEFINITE

"However," he said, "we can't tell the exact number of employes we'll recall until a day or two after vacation. It will take that long to figure out the number we'll need to resume work on these two lines."

There have been rumors that 1,300 men would be recalled, but that number was not confirmed today by company officials.

The Pennsylvania railroad has hired about 300 men in the past two weeks to work on tracks. The railroad is still hiring men for jobs around and in Mansfield, according to company officials.

Barnes Manufacturing company's big lay off was on April 15 when 75 or 80 men lost their jobs. Since then about half of these have been re-hired, 10 per cent of them since the first of this month. A company official said today the "future is not clear," but more men would be hired if they were needed.

The Erie railroad plans to hire 25 men by Aug. 1 for track work,

'Showdown' Battle Seen

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. — (AP) — Soft coal operators hinted today they may fight John L. Lewis' three day work week even if it means a tight shut down of the pits in approaching cold weather.

Lewis failed to appear at the resumption of contract negotiations here yesterday. At the same time the major commercial and "captive" steel company representatives said they were ready to talk business.

The operators siad Lewis' absence meant he was trying to show the employers he was displeased by the testimony of Harry M. Moses, George H. Love, and other operator representatives at a Washington hearing two days ago of Senator Robertson (D-Va) on the subject of union monopoly influence.

The mine owners, however, showed they were anxious to fight it out with Lewis. Unless he shows up, these same mine owners said they were considering shutting down their pits and waiting for the shaggy haired mine leader to challenge their right to fix the work operations of their mines.

A big section, though not necessarily the majority, of the bituminous coal operators wants to challenge Lewis on his revolutionary three day work week idea. Most of the opposition to Lewis comes from the steel companies whose - so - called "captive" pits produce the sinews of the automobile and other basic indutries.

Suspend Eleven

CLEVELAND — (AP) — With three new names added, the number of postal workers suspended here on disloyalty charges rose to 11 today.

Absorbed In Work, Gets Self Lost

NEWARK, N. J. —(UP)— Joseph Pistolese, 74, a street cleaner, said today he guessed it was the heat that caused him to keep right on sweeping 2½ miles into the neighboring city of Elizabeth.

Police in Elizabeth picked him up with his pushcart and broom and brought him back to Newark after he complained he was lost.

He said he started out sweeping his normal route of Frelinghuysen avenue, but when he looked up several hours later he was in strange territory.

Fists Fly As French OK Pact

Reds, Non-Reds Swap Punches

PARIS — (UP) — The French national assembly today approved ratification of the Atlantic pact, 398 to 187, ending the marathon debate punctuated by name - calling and fisticuffs between communists and anti-communists.

The ratification measure now goes to the consultative council of the republic for approval. It then will be returned to the assembly for a final reading.

The debate Friday morning and originally was expected to lead to a vote Saturday night.

Deputies shouted at each other and twice exchanged punches, necessitating recesses. Only after an all-night session from 10:30 p. m. last night until 8:45 a. m. today was the vote finally taken.

From the beginning, ratification was considered a certainty. But communists and non-communists, tense from days of oratory, started swapping the punches. When President Edouard Herriot suspended a session, they continued fighting in the lobbies outside.

Police said no one was injured seriously, but there were several black eyes and bloody noses.

When the vote came, it was the communists who lined up against ratification, as expected.

Their orators had charged that the pact was a "German-American treaty" and "a pact of war planned by American capitalists with a view to attacking the Soviet Union."

Pro - pact speakers demanded that the United States back up French ratification with substantial aid in rearming France.

Full ratification already has been given to the pact by the United States, Canada, Britain, Belgium, Norway, Luxembourg and Iceland.

Tiro Rocked As Welder Plays Safe

SHELBY — (AP) — Caution is more than just a word of Weldon Nye, a welder of nearby Tiro.

A customer brought him a 75-gallon steel drum yesterday to be repaired. Perfectly harmless, the customer told him.

Nye wasn't willing to take the customer's word for it. So he soaked a cloth in gasoline, tied it to the end of a long pole, set it afire and gingerly poked the drum.

An explosion blew out both ends of the drum, shook the village of 500 persons, knocked cans off shelves in a grocery across the alley, but injured no one.

Judge Shoots Legal Rival

ATLANTA — (AP) — An Atlanta judge early today shot down a lawyer, his opponent in a tangle of divorce suits and other legal actions.

At about 2:30 a. m. police reported, Fulton county Civil Court Judge Robert Carpenter, 44, pulled his car alongside one driven by attorney John Lockwood, 53, and fired at him five times with a pistol.

One shot wounded the lawyer in the face. He ran from the car and tumbled into a muddy, 40-foot deep hole. A hospital later reported his condition was fair.

Goes To Akron

Crestline Boy New Derby Champ

Little Jimmy Mitchell today was named Mansfield's official representative in the All-American Soap Box Derby which will be staged on Akron's Derby Downs Aug. 14.

The smiling blond youngster from Crestline gained his chance to compete in the national finals yesterday when Clifford Phillips, who raced to victory in the Mansfield Derby last Saturday, was disqualified. Investigation showed the coaster, which Phillips drove in the race, was built by other persons.

Although he won't be 13 until Oct. 26, Mitchell has already won the Class B division of the Mansfield Soap Box Derby two straight years. Last year, he was runner-up to Dick Jordon and Saturday he finished two-tenths of a second behind Phillips in the finals. Jordan tied for 13th in the 1948 national Derby in Akron.

When co-directors Don Cram and Bob Moore notified Jimmy that he had been chosen to represent Mansfield, all the youngster could manage was "I hope I'll win."

Jimmy got interested in Soap Box Derby racing when his brother Don raced in two Mapsfield events. He had previously been interested in constructing model airplanes and sailboats. The racer which Jimmy will pilot in the national finals took 10 weeks to build. He used only a few parts from his 1948 creation.

Jimmy will be in the eighth grade at Crestline high school this fall and earns his spare money as a carrier boy for the Columbus Dispatch.

Jimmy will spend four days in Akron Aug. 11-14 as a guest of the News-Journal, co-sponsor of the Mansfield Derby with the Brandenburg Chevrolet company.

JIMMY MITCHELL . . . with championship trophy.

Street Funds Getting Low

City Requests Fund Transfers

City council will be asked to approve the transfer of $21,800 of city funds to finance the upswing in the cost of maintaining the city's streets, Service-Safety Director Earl T. Garrison said today.

The decision came at a meeting last night attended by Mayor Roy W. Vaughn, Service-Safety Director Earl Garrison and city council's finance committee.

Council will be asked at its Aug. 3 meeting to approve the proposed transfer of funds that would take $10,000 from the general fund and give it to the street department.

Other funds that would be used for the purchase of oil and other materials for the streets include $9,200 in gasoline tax money and $2,600 from registration fee money.

Several other smaller transfers will be included in the legislation that will be submitted to council.

The police department will receive $410 from the general fund, if council approves the transfer.

The sanitary sewer fund will give up $1,500 for maintenance of the sewer department's vehicles and $2,500 for material and tools for sewer department work, if council approves the proposed transfers.

Asks Lustron Probe

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. Smith (R-Ohio) has asked for a House committee inquiry into the amount of construction finance corporation loans granted the Lustron corporation, of Columbus, Ohio. The company produces prefabricated houses.

Mercury Reaches 93

Showers Offer Hope Of Heat Relief

Mansfield's in a "weather rut."

More heat and humidity is scheduled for today and tomorrow. There may be showers this afternoon, but the weatherman said the showers will have to occur during the heat of the afternoon to affect the mercury.

The weather station at the Mansfield airport yesterday registered an official 87, but the city sewage treatment plant on Park avenue east said the mercury there reached 93.

The whole explanation for the hot, sticky weather is that it can't be dispersed unless a cool air mass moves in. That's what the cool air isn't doing. It's staying put. Some brisk breezes last night and today, however, made the heat more bearable.

There was every indication today that the mercury would outdo its Tuesday high. The temperature at noon was 85.

Rainfall during the past week ranged from one to two inches in the central part of Ohio from Tiffin southward to Circleville and from Greenville eastward to Ashland and Cambridge. Cincinnati's 2.96 inches of rain on the 21st resulted in corn being leveled by flooded creeks in Hamilton county.

Weathermen said the only spots with genuinely comfortable temperature today were in the far west and parts of the Dakotas, Wyoming and Montana.

But practically everywhere else there was just routine summer weather—the kind that put Richard Hack of Madison, Wis., in jail for wading in Lake Monona and John Jansen of Flint, Mich., in the hospital for treatment of thorn punctures received when he fell off his porch, where he was sleeping, into a rosebush.

Plea For More Aid

PARIS — (AP) — Britain's critical dollar shortage has exploded into an economic crisis for all the Marshall plan countries.

The unexpected British request for $624,000,000 more American aid than had been tentatively alloted to her, broke like a bombshell among the other countries.

This was especially true since the others had become resigned to a slash in available funds.

Leaders of the Democratic party in the United States Congress agreed yesterday to an appropriation of about 16 per cent below what the European countries had hoped to receive.

One French official said yesterday the British request "could break the Marshall plan wide open"

An American economist commented that the other European nations "will never stand for it (the British request)."

The British request was transmitted Saturday in a secret note to the Organization for European Economic Cooperation (OEEC). This is the organization which splits up the Marshall plans funds.

Churchill Contributes $100

British Raise Cash For Nazi's Defense

LONDON —(UP)— A campaign to raise money for the defense of a former nazi field marshal cut deeper into British unity today than Adolf Hitler's propagandists ever were able to penetrate during the war.

Several British wartime leaders were campaigning for $8,000 to provide legal counsel for Fritz Erich Von Mannstein, one of the key men of the Wehrmacht. They already had raised about half of it.

The name that led all the rest on the list of contributors was that of Winston Churchill, the wartime personification of John Bull who pulled Britain through its darkest hour under nazi attack. He gave $100.

The curious business of war has hardly taken a stranger turn than the campaign by the men who, after spending the war years trying to smash Von Mannstein and his kind, are now busily seeing to it that he has all the legal counsel necessary to fight the war crimes charges. He goes on trial in Hamburg Aug. 23, charged with mass murder and other crimes.

Lord De L'Isle and Dueley, who won the Victoria Cross in the war, and Maj. Gen. Lord Bridgeman, who helped organize the home defenses, started the fund two weeks ago.

Viscount Simon, one of the best intellects in Britain and a member of the wartime cabinet, deplored the fact that public funds were not provided so that Von Mannstein might have a leading British K. C.—king's councillor.

Readers of the traditional public forums, the correspondence columns of the Times and Daily Telegram, hotly debated the issue. Most letters printed seemed to favor the project. But some readers referred to the campaign as muddled thinking. One said:

"Are there not still enough hapless victims, British and continental, who have been maimed, left broken and homeless, by the acts of this same field marshal and the government from whom he took his orders, to whom our money should go?"

Circulate Ballot Petitions

Vote Sought In November

Initiative petitions were being circulated today in Mansfield and Richland county to place the question of the Massachusetts type ballot before voters in the November election.

The petitions were sent here from Cleveland by the "Committee for Adoption of the Office Type Ballot."

The campaign throughout the state is backed by a group of Republicans, but the state Republican organization is not participating, Ralph Hardy, chairman of the county Republican executive committee, said.

To put the question on the November ballot, a total of 301,829 valid signatures must be obtained. That figure represents 10 per cent of the total vote for governor last year. The petitions must be filed with the secretary of state by Aug. 10.

The Massachusetts ballot abolishes straight ticket voting and instead requires the voter to mark an "x" beside the name of each candidate he favors.

That type of ballot groups together all candidates for each office. The party affiliation of each candidate is listed after his name.

HITS STRAIGHT TICKETS

This prevents "straight ticket" voting as practiced under the present party column ballot. Ballots now in use list candidates for all offices under their party emblem. A single "x" at the top of a column is a vote for all those named underneath.

Democrats say the campaign is aimed at preventing Gov. Frank J. Lausche from "carrying" lesser-known party candidates into office.

Last November Democrats in Ohio won all but one state office and gained majorities in both houses of the legislature for the first time in several years.

A similar attempt at a ballot change failed in Ohio in 1936. The bill was introduced in the Ohio General Assembly but died in committee.

The secretary of state's office reported that 77,000 initiative petitions were issued at the request of the proponents of the plan.

Take Duble To Hideaway

CINCINNATI — (UP) — Police today took Dennison Duble, key suspect in a $50,000,000 policy racket swindle, to an undisclosed location in an apparent effort to protect the civic and social leader from any attempt on his life by his alleged racketeer associates.

Duble was scheduled to leave for New York City by airplane today to testify before a grand jury. He agreed to go voluntarily.

New York detectives who had held him in "voluntary custody" since Monday checked out of the fashionable Netherland Plaza hotel during the night and took Duble to an undisclosed location.

The move was taken as unconfirmed reports indicated the veteran of 20 years in the banking business would turn state's evidence against eastern racketeers who allegedly paid him to juggle Cincinnati clearning house figure.

3 Committees Await Details

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Three capitol hill committees are awaiting details of a $1,450,000,000 foreign arms program which Congress seems likely to rip wide apart.

Secretary of State Acheson will go before the House foreign affairs committee tomorrow in an attempt to justify supplying western European signers of the North Atlantic pact with what President Truman said are "urgently needed" weapons of war.

Reception of this proposal there appeared likely to be somewhat less hostile than by the combined membership of the Senate's foreign relations and armed services committees.

Tax Law Effect Slight

The new Ohio tax law, signed yesterday by Gov. Frank J. Lausche is not likely to have much effect in Richland county, Auditor Norman L. Wolfe said this morning.

The new law requires the state board of tax appeals to equalize values between counties, subdivisions, or certain classes of property on a percentage basis.

Wolfe explained that his office is already engaged in a reappraisal of property for tax purposes under a state law which requires such action every six years.

He said any decided increase in over-all real estate valuation would merely result in a reduction of the tax rate leaving dollar payments about in status quo — unless, of course, additional levies are approved by the voters.

Wolfe said he believed the state department of taxation would approve the tax appraisals here as his office is complying with suggestions and recommendations of the department.

PROVIDES CHANGES

The new law permits the state board of tax appeals to order a county's auditor to make an adjustment if it finds tax values too high or too low.

Failure to do so within 90 days make it possible for the board to order the state auditor to withhold state funds due the county.

Wolfe said the act was "good legislation" because it makes for uniformity in real estate appraisals throughout the 88 counties.

The auditor pointed out that the new law emphasizes powers

Poll Tax Fight Looms

House Sends Bill To Senate

WASHINGTON —(AP)— An anti-poll tax bill was laid today on the Senate's doorsteps, with indications that it would be abandoned there.

A 273 to 116 House vote sent it over, ignoring arguments by southern opponents that it and other civil rights bills are likely to bolster the Ku Llux Klan.

It was the fifth time in less than ten years that the House has gone through the formality of passing such a bill. Four times previously the Senate has refused to consider the bills in the face of threatened filibusters.

The filibuster threat was raised again as the House passed the bill late yesterday.

"The bill has about as much chance of passage in the Senate as a bird-size snowball has in Hades," said Rep. Wheeler (D-Ga), who opposed it. A filibuster, if nothing else, will stop it, he added.

Southerners tried to filibuster it off the House floor but House debate limitations blicked them after two days. In the Senate debate can go on and on.

Should the Senate reverse precedent and pass the bill, opponents said, one immediate effect will be for the southern poll tax states to order split ballots for future elections.

Under this procedure, candidates for federal office would be listed on one ballot and candidates for state and local offices on another.

A voter who has paid his poll tax would get both ballots, while the voter who hasn't paid would get only the federal ballot.

Crucial Fight Begins

Issue Centers On Buying

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate headed into a major battle today over whether the foreign aid program should be required to purchase $2,000,000,000 worth of surplus American farm products.

Economic Cooperation Administrator Paul Hoffman has told senators the vote on this issue may decide the success or failure of the European Recovery program in the coming year.

The dispute is over one of five amendments tagged onto the foreign aid bill by the Senate appropriations committee.

Democratic leaders beat back one of the amendments late yesterday and reluctantly agreed to accept another—one chopping $419,820,000 off the total funds asked for the program. But they promised a fight to the finish against the remaining changes—including the one up for discussion today.

This one would require ECA to spend about $1,500,000,000 and the Army another $500,000,000, for surplus farm products. Both agencies would be required to buy commodities in the amount and of the kind listed in their budget estimates.

And if they didn't—the money could not be used for any other purpose.

SCOFF AT CHARGE

But lawmakers backing the amendment — including Senator McClellan (D-Ark), who introduced it—said such a situation never would arise.

"That's the amount of money they asked for surplus farm commodity purchases," McClellan said. "If that's what they needed—then how can it wreck the recovery program?"

The decision to accept a 10 per cent cut in the $4,198,000,000 program was made by the Democratic policy committee after Senate leaders had won a four-vote victory over an amendment which would have trimmed $74,000,000 off the ECA spending.

This vote had the effect of giving back to ECA $74,000,000 which would have been denied by the Senate Appropriations committee.

Other explosive amendments in the aid bill coming up for a vote would:

(1) Permit a $50,000,000 loan of ECA funds to Spain.

(2) Deny aid to any nation violating a treaty with the United States. This is the aftermath of charges of French discrimination against American businessmen in Morocco.

(3) Deny aid to Great Britain or other ECA nations which nationalize basic industries in the future.

Police Nab Girl, Drugs

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Acting on a tip, police and federal narcotics agents yesterday recovered narcotics which they said would have brought $26,000 in the illegitimate market.

The officers arrested Miss Faye Arlington, 28, a Columbus waitress and today they were seeking other persons.

Sgt. Russell Jones of the vice squad said the narcotics had been stolen from the University hospital at Columbus. He said the woman denied participation in the burglary of the hospital but admitted she had helped in moving the drugs. She was held on suspicion of illegal possession of drugs.

The narcotics were found in an automobile on Cincinnati's west side and Sgt. Jones said Miss Arlington was in the car at the time. Federal Narcotics Agent Roy Anderson said they also found towels which were identified as having been taken from the Columbus hospital.

Hold Meeting On Sharing of Atom

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Two top cabinet officers meet today with the Congressional Atomic committee to seek an agreement on how far to go in sharing atomic bomb secrets with Great Britain and Canada.

Secretary of State Acheson and Defense Secretary Johnson officially are to talk with the "watchdog" committee on "foreign relations in the field of atomic energy."

Two Teams Still Unbeaten In National Loop

Cuff Stuff

By Fred Tharp

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

JUST HOW football crept into the act this week is beyond the rotund conductor of this corner. . . . However, a few inquiries about schedules have been wafted this way via the telephone. . . . So in response to numerous requests here's a rundown on the grid slates of Mansfield Senior and Madison high schools:

SENIOR HIGH

Sept. 16—Akron South, here.
Sept. 23—Cleveland East, here.
Sept. 30—At Alliance.
Oct. 7—Warren Harding, here.
Oct. 14—Euclid, here.
Oct. 21—At Massillon.
Oct. 28—Kent Roosevelt, here.
Nov. 4—Open.
Nov. 11—Toledo Waite, here.

★

1947 WORLD Series star Frank "Spec" Shea has been sent to Newark by the Yankees. . . . Shea won two series games in 1947 but copped only one game for the Yanks this season. . . . Nothing in Doyle Lade's career with the Chicago Cubs has given him the thrill he experienced with Shreveport in July of 1942. . . . Doyle threw a no-hitter against San Antonio and won his own game with a home run. . . . Michigan State college turned out a hard-hitting baseball outfield last spring. . . . George Reutenbar, left, hit .377; Ed Sobczak, center, .347, and Jack Kinney, right, .344.

★

BOB KUZAVA, the former Mansfield lefty, lost a tough game yesterday to the Boston Red Sox. . . . Of course, the final score of 11-2 doesn't sound too hard. . . . But Bob retired in the seventh inning for a pinch hitter with the White Sox trailing, 1 to 0. . . . Kuzava had allowed only two hits in his six innings. . . . In the eighth Boston unleashed a 10-run barrage. . . . Kuzava has now won six and lost two for seventh-place Chicago.

Flyers Get Second Win Over Tires

The 164th Fighter Squadron kept pace with National league-leading Westinghouse yesterday by walloping the rugged Mansfield Tire nine, 10-3, in a softball game at Johns park.

It was the second victory against no defeats in second half play for the Fighter Squadron. Westinghouse won its fourth game handily by a 15-2 count over Ideal Electric.

Fritz Vogel did his usually reliable mound job in scattering eight Ideal hits and issuing only two free passes.

Howie Waldman led the Westinghouse attack by cracking out four hits in five times at bat. Bob McFadden was not too far behind with "three for five." Rich Snavely led Ideal with a double and single.

Dave Maxwell of Fighter Squadron held the Tiremen to two hits while he and his mates were jumping on Mansfield Tire for 13. Lou Pelsoczi had a double and home run for 164th while Darling had a double and two singles.

B. Yosick homered for Mansfield Tire.

Exhibition Grid Game Tickets On Sale Here

Mansfield has a ticket office for the Cleveland Browns — New York Yankees exhibition football game in Akron's Rubber Bowl Aug. 26.

Tickets for the game are available at City News, Dave Templeton, former Mansfield Senior high star, is a member of the Cleveland squad.

Gorman-Rupp Softball 9 Knocks Off Toolmen, 14-4

Gorman-Rupp firmly established itself as Mansfield's number one softball team by walloping Farm Tools, one of the top City league clubs, 14-4, under the G-R lights last night.

Only Manager Jim LeMunyon could do anything with the pitching of Gorman-Rupp's Bob Regula and he hit it with a vengeance. The red-haired center-fielder tagged Regula for two singles and a long home run. His homer was the Toolmen's only run until they rallied for three in the seventh. LeMunyon had a single in the latter inning.

SLOPPY IN FIELD

Jack Walters held Gorman-Rupp to ten hits but some sloppy fielding behind him gave the Pumpers the majority of their runs. Farm Tools was without its regular shortstop, Bob Boyd, while Gorman-Rupp Manager Nick Weber withheld himself from the game.

The Pumpers go to Ashland tonight to play the Ashland Indians while Friday night they will be host to Upper Sandusky.

Central Ohio Squads Can't Win This One

Madison and Ashland of the Central Ohio junior league were today still trying to reach a decision on a game scheduled between the two several weeks ago.

The game was rained out back on June 30. It was rained out a second time later and then when finally played yesterday, was called by darkness in the sixth inning with the score a 0-0 tie.

The contest was re-set for next Tuesday.

Ashland almost stole the game in the last inning when it loaded the bases and no one out. Madison third - baseman Larry Secrist threw one man out at the plate and then a squeeze play went awry. Pitcher Joe Distl picked the attempted bunt out of the air and doubled another man off third base.

Madison plays Bellville tomorrow at Blue Goose.

St. Louis Cards Add Batting Prowess; Margin Over Brooklyn Is Increasing

By STAN OPOTOWSKY

NEW YORK —(UP)—The St. Louis Cardinals added planted power to their pitching prowess today as they stretched their National league lead to a game and a half over the faltering Brooklyn Dodgers.

The card mound corps has often been cited as the team's grasp on glory, supposedly a fine antidote for a so-so batting attack. But last night, when the St. Louisers rapped out 16 hits to beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 9 to 5, they showed power unexcelled. The Dodgers, meanwhile, were dropping their fourth in a row, this to the Cubs by a 6 to 0 count.

Those 16 hits against the Phils represented no flash in the pan. The Cards have been hitting regularly of late. They got 16 blows in one game against Brooklyn and a respectable eight in each of the other two. Against the Braves in the preceding series they lost the first game with a mere six hits, but then won the next two on 13 and 10 blow blowoffs.

Red Schoendienst with four for five, and Stan Musial, Glenn Nelson and Enos Slaughter with three for four, headed the lusty attack on four Philly pitchers last night. Musial had two doubles in his collection.

Dick Sisler's homer for Philadelphia with one on in the first gave the Phils a momentary lead, but the Cards scored four in the third on three singles, two doubles and an error. The Cards added two in the fourth and three in the sixth. Harry Brecheen was the winning pitcher, going over the .500 mark with an 8-7 record.

For the Dodgers it was a case of their old jinx, Johnny Schmitz, once again. Schmitz scattered seven hits while the Cubs pummeled three Dodger pitchers—par for the Brooklyn course—with 11 including five extra basers.

The Cubs scored three runs in the first inning on a trio of singles and Roy Smalley's double. Andy Pafko's double and Smalley's triple brought in another run in the third. The final two runs came in the eighth on two singles and Mickey Owen's double.

NEED FOUR HITS

The Pirates needed only four hits to beat the Giants, 4 to 1. What's more, only three of the hits figured in the scoring as Ernie Bonham won his sixth straight. Dino Restelli's homer with one on in the fourth brought in two runs.

Two walks, a sacrifice, a fielder's choice and Johnny Hopp's single brought in the other two in the fifth. Bobby Thomson's 17th homer in the fourth was the only Giant run.

Kent Peterson's six - hit pitching gave the Reds a 6 to 3 win over the Braves. The Reds jumped to the lead with two runs in the first, added two in the second and then coasted.

The leading Yankees and the chasing Indians were idle in the American league race.

The Red Sox cut loose with 10 runs in the eighth inning to swamp the White Sox, 11 to 2. Maury McDermott won his fourth of the season that way, barely missing a shutout. Both Chisox runs, one on Cass Michaels' homer with none on, came in the ninth.

It was more of the same for Washington. The Senators dropped their 11th straight, this to Detroit by a 6 to 2 score. Ted Gray pitched a five-hitter for the Tigers. At Philadelphia Sam Chapman's single with two on and two out in the 10th gave the Athletics a 5 to 4 decision over the Browns.

Yanks Sure To Win Arnica, Old Tape Title

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK — (UP) — Whether the New York Yankees will win the American league championship is questionable but the bandaged bombers already have clinched the arnica and old tape title for 1949

Casey Stengel, the man with the loving cup ears, has made a brilliant bid for manager of the year honors by keeping his club at the top of the heap despite one of the most impressive hospital lists in the medical history of baseball

Several hundred man days have been lost just since the season opened. With a total of 49 injuries, only three members of the squad have not been sidelined. These "Iron men" are Vic Raschi, Hank Bauer and Billy Johnson.

The long distance champion is of course, Joe DiMaggio, who lost 65 days The sprinting king is Yogi Berra, with 10 separate hurts. And the ailments run from the customary cuts gashes and concussions to sinus and athletes foot.

Ignoring the injuries that plagued the Yanks in spring training, just run them over lightly since the campaign started:

April 19 — (opening day) — DiMaggio out with heel injury, Berra a cold; Charley Keller, pulled side muscles. Bob Porterfield, arm in cast with torn ligaments; Spec Shea, sore neck; Johnny Lindell, ankle injury, and Butch Marshall, hospitalized with fever

"I hope I get a team on the field," Stengel moaned

April 20 — George Stirnweiss, sprained left hand, Charlie Silvera, struck on mouth by foul tip, Scooter Rizzuto, out with heavy cold, Berra bruised thigh by pitched ball April 22 — Berra and Dick Kryhoski shaken in collision, April 27 — Berra bruised by foul tip, April 30 — Berra spiked leg

At that time the Yanks led by two full games

May 12 — Silvera spiked on heel, May 21 DiMag returned, had to quit, May 24 — Gus Niarbos hit on head by bat, Porterfield hit on arm, Stirnweiss hit on shin; May 27 — Allie Reynolds, back ailment; May 29 — Lindell tore knee cartilege

At this time the Yanks led by 4½ games

June 3 — Porterfield tore arm ligaments again, June 9 — Henrich, sore knee, Kryhoski injured wrist, June 10 — Stirnweiss another wrist injury, June 14 — Gene Woodling hospitalized by stomach ailment, June 20 — Berra sore hand, stiff neck; Kryhoski, swollen heel, June 22 — Joe Page, athletes' foot, June 23 — Bobby Brown, sprained ankle; June 29 — Berra split finger, June 30 — Rizzuto arm tremors due to brain concussion

The Yanks now led by 5½ games

July 1 — Henrich, bruised ribs and cracked knee, July 4 — Jack Phillips, bursitis of the shoulder, July 13 — Brown stomach disorder, July 18 — Shea neck and shoulder ailment, July 19 — Woodling, knee and shoulder injury Mapes, swollen leg July 22 — Berra, bruised ribs; July 25 — Silvera, twisted ankle, and Henrich, toe fracture.

The Yanks now lead by three games.

And, for what it's worth, you'll notice the injury average is down too, which has the rest of the league pleading

"Please don't break up the Yankees"

Fans Now Optimistic About Tribe's Chances

Indians Just Three Games Behind Yanks

CLEVELAND —(AP)— That man on the pole has lots of company here in believing the Cleveland Indians soon will be on top of the American league.

Naturally there's not quite the same intense loyalty that marked the 1948 season. After all, this sixth city had waited 28 years for a pennant. Everyone was so anxious for the boys to win they were positively superstitious about putting "the whammy" on their front-running club.

The fans are a bit more critical this year, but they're none-the-less optimistic that Lou Boudreau & Co. will keep the pennant in town.

And, of course, that optimism is growing as the Indians go into today's game with the New York Yankees only three games out of first place—the closest they've been since May 7.

A couple of weeks ago you could put up a buck to win four here that Indians would win the flag. Now you have to shop around a bit for a 1-2 offer.

It is still possible to walk down one of Cleveland's shaded suburban streets on night the Tribe is playing and keep up with every play from the living room radios along the way.

Home attendance, too, has been good, in spite of the world champions' lethargic get-away. The first 51 home games drew 1,458,021 fans compared with 1,718,405 for the first 52 games last year when the Tribe was in a dogfight for first place from the very outset.

MAY CATCH UP

If the Indians can cop the series in New York and Boston on this third 15-game swing of the east, attendance here won't be too far behind last season's record 2,620,627.

At the rate the Indians have been going, they should catch up with the Yankees within three weeks.

Since June 6 the Indians have won 35 games and lost 14 for a percentage of .714. The Yanks have won 27 and lost 20 for .574.

There's a reason for going back seven weeks to June 6 as the turning point in the Indian's fortunes. That was the day Boudreau moved over to third base and Rookie Ray Boone got the awsome job of replacing the game's greatest post-war shortstop.

Although Tribe prexy Bill Veeck had another season "opener" here May 27, the Tribe continued to slide downward and a Sunday double header loss to Philadelphia put them on rock bottom June 5, ten games behind the league - leading Yankees and only four percentage points ahead of the seventh-place Chicago White Sox.

In the 49 games since then, the Indians raised their team batting average 19 points to .259. A jittery Boone made 17 errors —more than any other two Tribe infielders combined—but Cleveland moved to the top in team fielding.

AVERAGES GO UP

Mickey Vernon, Larry Doby and Boudreau fattened their batting averages the most in the seven - week comeback period. Vernon's went up from .253 to .283 and he drove in 31 runs. Doby shook off an early slump to rise from .243 to .292 and drive in 30 runs. Boudreau jumped from .250 to .275 and rapped home 19 markers.

Dale Mitchell led the Tribe batters with .312 on June 5 and he has .309 today, still the best mark. His low total of 28 runs batted in for the season is partly due to his lead-off position, but due also to his type of hitting—line drives and scratch grounders made good because he is an exceptionally fast runner.

Joe Gordon's average has fallen as the Indians climbed. Joe's present .249 compares with .270 on June 5, but since then he has batted in 39 runs—more than any other Indian.

Pitcher Bob Lemon seems to hold the key to the Tribe's future. He has won nine victories, lost three and gone seven complete games in seven weeks. He's slugging the ball at a .309 average, too, and has 14 runs batted in and six homers. But he's overworked, and if he tires as he did at the end of last season, the club will be hard put to stay in the chase.

Bob Feller, who is booked to start today against the Yankees' Ed Lopat, has won six of his last nine games and gone five in full. Rookie Mike (The Bear) Garcia has five victories, one defeat and three complete games since June 5. Early Wynn, with 5-2 and one for the distance has been the other key moundsman in the return of the vanishing Indians.

Young Boston Lefty Rated Top Prospect

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sport Writer

The biggest break the Boston Red Sox got this season was when Maurice "call me Lefty" McDermott swallowed his pride and consented to return to the minors for more seasoning.

Because of that decision, the Red Sox today own the brightest young pitching star in the American league.

Last April, when Manager Joe McCarthy farmed him out to Louisville, the 20 - year -old lefthander was so incensed that for a while, he was ready to return to his home in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Not long after McDermott set an American association record by striking out 26 St. Paul players in a single game, Lefty was recalled by the Red Sox. That was on June 12. Since then he's made six starts and won four of them. His two defeats were by 1-0 and 5-4 scores.

The cocky youngster, now in his fifth professional season although not yet of voting age, pitched another beauty last night as the Red Sox chopped up the Chicago White Sox, 11-2. In going the route for the fifth straight time, the lanky fireballer allowed six hits, walked six and struck out seven. In 52 innings, he's allowed only 31 hits, walked 32 and fanned 38. Eight is the most hits he's given up in a game.

Softball Joust Deadline Reset For Saturday

Deadline for entering the district softball tournament was today extended to noon Saturday by tournament manager Stan Kamen. Kamen said all entries must be in his office by that time and that pairings will be made Saturday afternoon.

Four more men's teams and two girls' nines entered this morning bringing the total to 13 teams.

Latest men's entries were received from Gorman-Rupp, the defending champions, Bud Sports of Upper Sandusky, Ashland Police and Perrysville Pottery. Girls entries were Galion All-Steel and Cochrane-Dolly Rimple of Mt. Vernon.

Two Galion men's teams and a half-dozen more Mansfield nines are expected.

Shelby To Play In Joust Tonight

The Shelby Blues were scheduled to make their debut in the Ohio National Baseball congress tournament at Holgate tonight.

Shelby will meet Bryan in the second game of a double-header. The rugged Somerset American Legion nine will play Wellington in the opener. Last night's games went to St. Paris, 11-1 over Archibald, and to Holgate, 2-0 over the Cleveland Barons.

Galion Legion Junior Team Hosts Mansfield

GALION — The Galion American Legion junior baseball team hosts the Mansfield Legion juniors at 5:30 p. m. today at Heise Park.

The Mansfield aggregation has won six of 11 decisions. Manager Dewey Durant has his lineup sprinkled with players who will be eligible for the Mansfield team next year.

COACH JIM TATUM AND DON GENTILE

Major Don Gentile, World War II hero of the Air Force, may try for the University of Maryland football team this fall.

However, Gentile will face a tough fight to make the squad according to Coach Jim Tatum.

"I know he was a fine high school player," Tatum said, "and I'd love to have him. But he's got quite a bit of age on him and there are several fine candidates who will fight for the quarterback job."

Gentile starred in high school football at Piqua, O. He has had no college experience and is enrolled at Maryland under an Army program. Gentile is 27 and destroyed 30 German planes in combat.

Sport Center Team Sends Lumbermens To 1st Defeat

The Lumbermens Girls' softball team fell to its first defeat yesterday at the hands of Ohio Sport Center, 8-1, at North Lake park.

Lumbermens defeat left Westinghouse alone at the top of the Girls' league standings. Westinghouse has five wins against no defeats while Lumbermen and Sport Center now have five and one records.

All three teams have two games left to play in the first half. Ruby Waters, Sport Center pitcher, allowed only five hits and struck out 10.

In a game involving second-division teams yesterday, Yunckers beat Spudnuts, 21-6, at Liberty park.

Ohio Seniors Golf Tourney Set In August

Dates for the Ohio Seniors golf tournament were announced today as Aug. 25-26 at Westbrook Country club. Bill Springer, secretary-treasurer of the Seniors association, made the announcement.

The tournament will be the 21st for the Seniors association, an organization with all members over 50 years of age. All the tournaments have been held at Westbrook.

As usual the affair will be held in six classes according to ages of the competitors. Eighteen holes of medal play will be held each day except for the Class A (75 and over) players. They will play nine holes daily.

One of the largest entry lists in the history of the event is expected since the membership at the present time is full 140. No advance entry is necessary for the members.

L.W. Olson of Mansfield is president of the Seniors association with Claude H. Foster of Cleveland vice-president. C. F. Weller, Mansfield, is chairman of the tournament committee with other members being J. W. Stickler, Mansfield and F. L. Montgomery of Coshocton.

Age groups of the tournament are : Class A—75 and over; B—70-74; C—65-69; D—60-64; E—55-59; and F—50-54. Handicaps will be used in all classes.

Long Shot Wins

OLD ORCHARD BEACH, Me. — (AP) — A 75 to 1 shot, Scotch Dean, won the first heat of the $7,500 pine tree trot at the kite track yesterday, paying $156.30, $55.50 and $25.50.

Jewelry 9 Seeks Split In American

Todd's Jewelry will be shooting for a first place tie in the fast American Softball league when it faces Isaly Dairy at 6:15 p. m. today at Prospect park.

Todd's won its first start in the second half last week but is a half game behind Farm Tools which has two victories without defeat. A victory tonight will deadlock it for the top spot. Disabled American Veterans also has a 1-0 record but does not play this week.

The other American league game will send Liederkranz against Sons of Herman at North Lake park. Both teams lost their only second half start.

In first half play Todd's defeated Farm Tools, 7-2, and Liederkranz beat Sons of Herman, 8-5.

IN OTHER LOOPS

One Recreation and two Girls' league games will be played. The Old Timers meet Martin Steel at Liberty park and must win to hold onto their Recreation league lead. The Old Timers have a 1-0 record in second-half play and a defeat today would drop them below the 2-1 mark of the News-Journal. Martin Steel, first half champions, lost its only second-half start, to the N-J.

In the Girls' league, Printzess will play Prospect at John Todd and Ohio Sport Center will vie with North Lake at Johns. Sport Center has been beaten only once and can stay in the race if it can get its fifth victory.

Lumbermens and Westinghouse lead the league with five victories each.

Penn Auto 4 Holds Lead In 'A' League

Despite the fact that number one man Jerry Rosenberg won only half-a-point, the Penn Auto-Sporting Goods team remained in first place following last night's play in the News-Journal A league at Possum Run.

Arnie Adams, Dick Gaubatz, and Jack Paulson notched seven, ten, and seven-and-a-half points each. Gaubatz had a par 36 shooting in the number three position.

Penn Auto now has 98 points to the 92½ of Ideal Billiards, and 86½ of Myers Supply.

Hottest match of the night involved those two fine journeymen golfers—Pete Thoma and Al Hager. The two finished all even, though Hager fired a brilliant four-under-par 32 to Pete's three-under 33.

Hager won a new bill for an eagle on the third hole as did Red Dillon off the first tee. Dillon drove number one green—a 270-yard bulls-eye poke — and then sank his putt for a deuce. Dillon also had a birdie in his round but came in with a one-over 37.

Sub-par scores included a 33 by Ray Malaska and a 34 by husky Pete Zeides. Ted Etzel was one under with 35 while Cid Mathias had the same count shooting in number two position for PD's bar.

TWO HIT PAR

Frank Jocha and Gaubatz had the only even-pars of the night while 37's were shot by Ed Blonston, Pete Zimmerman, Adams and Dillon.

Behind the top three in the standings are: Blue Goose Tavern, 86; Komito's Clothes, 84½; PD's Bar, 78; Hall's Shamrock Market, 76½; Lee's Lunch, 74½; Gibson Studebaker, 70½, and Drive-in-ette, 53.

Dutch Woman Fails In Try At Channel

DOVER, England — (AP) — The choppy waters of the English channel have scored another victory.

A 31 - year - old Dutch housewife, Mrs. Willy Croes Van Rijsel, who attempted to swim the channel yesterday, had to give up just a mile and a half from her goal.

The sturdy 175 - pound wife of an Amsterdam commercial traveler battled the currents for 14½ hours before calling it quits.

Another attempt to swim the 20 - mile stretch of water will be made early next month by a 16 - year - old American schoolgirl, Shirley May France of Somerset, Mass.

Miss France is due in London Friday to begin training for the grind. She expects to make the try about ten days after her arrival.

Of the more than 200 attempts to swim the channel only 27 have succeded. Gertrude Ederle was the first woman to turn the feat and her time of 14 hours and 31 minutes remains the women's record.

The last woman to swim the channel was Sally Bauer of Sweden on Aug. 27, 1939.

Brown Hunts Speedy Half In BG Camp

BOWLING GREEN—(AP) —Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland all-America conference Browns has 53 young and tough footballers in his training camp. He hopes a couple of them have speed to burn and can play halfback.

"I'm looking for that long-shot type of runner that can break up a football game from any place on the field, said Brown. "Our halfbacks did a lot of scoring last year, but none of them traveled very far on one trip with the ball," he added.

"Our passing and fullbacking will be all right, but I'd like to round out the backfield with a couple of halfbacks who could provide the same kind of results," he said.

Among the speedy candidates for halfback posts in the champions' camp are Tom Zaborac of Illinois, Warren Lahr of Western Reserve, and Gene Derricotte of Michigan. Huey Keeney of Rice Institute is another speed merchant.

Ez Charles Gets Fight Offer From Veterans' Outfit

SAN FRANCISCO — (UP) — Ezzard Charles, the national boxing association's world heavyweight champ, has been offered $35,000 or 35 per cent of the gate to fight California heavyweight titleholder Pat Valentino in a title bout next October.

The offer was made by the veteran's rehabilitation foundation which set October 14 for the proposed match in the city's cow palace.

Lou Thomas, president of the National Boxing club promoting the bout, said his organization would conduct the match and the proceeds would go to the Livermore veterans' hospital chapel fund.

Jack Andrade, Valentino's manager, has okayed the fight, according to Thomas. Valentino, a curly - haired San Francisco battler, won the state crown in a fight with negro heavyweight Turkey Thompsen here last December.

Each room has an individual tone. There is restful beauty in the Wedgewood blue living room. The spacious dining room is in decorators handpainted wallpaper. Dives Into Cemetery

STOCKTON, Cal. — (UP) — A 23-year-old pilot, despondent over his wife's death, terrorized residents by buzzing their homes and then power-dived to his death in the graveyard where she was buried.

Russell (Bud) Higby, jr., son of a prominent Stockton and Bakersfield produce merchant, rorared over the northeast section of the city at "hair-raising" low levels before making his suicidal plunge.

"For a while, we thought we might even have to shoot him down," Sheriff Carlos Souza said. "Some of his dives came as low as 40-feet."

As frightened householders flooded switchboards with calls for officers, deputies raced to the airport to arrest Higby when he landed.

Instead, Higby leveled off his small private plane at about 2,000 feet over the Stockton Rural cemetery and then "nosed over into a 60-degree power dive."

The craft disintegrated on impact. Parts scattered over a 1,500-foot area but the wreck did not burn. Higby's body was thrown nearly 85 feet from the wreckage.

Higby's parents said he had been despondent over the death of his wife, Beverly, during the birth of their second child four months ago.

Erect Marker For Living War Veteran

TOPEKA, Kas. — (AP) — The American Legion erected a marker honoring the memory of a Kansas war veteran—but the veteran was found alive and well this week

Dean Hobson, 26, who participated in the Battle of the Bulge, was found working at the Winter Vetereans hospital here as a radio technician.

A name change caused the mixup in his life and death status.

He was adopted at the age of 18 months when his parents were divorced and his last name was changed from Spence to Hobson.

His father, Norman Spence of Manhattan, Kas., wrote the War department for a record of his son's whereabouts. He was unaware his son's name had been changed.

The War department replied that Dean Spence had been killed in action over Italy.

The Legion then erected a memorial marker in Manhattan.

Hobson learned his father was living in Manhattan, paid him a visit and discovered the mixup.

1 Missing As Boat Capsizes

POMEROY — (AP) — A motorboat capsized and plunged three men into the Ohio river early today in the path of a steamboat towing four coal barges upstream.

One of the three was missing after the accident and a search got under way. Police said the missing man is Duane Davis, about 30, an electrician, of Pomeroy.

The other two occupants of the small boat were Alphonse Schorn, a barber, and Gerald Wise, about 45, a railroad employe, both of Pomeroy.

DROPS THROUGH STREET—This loaded truck operated by the Norwalk Truck lines went through the black-top paving on Oakenwaldt avenue yesterday and was buried to the axle in soft earth. Clifford Bull, Ashland, driver of the truck, surveys the damage The black-top surface on the street was reported shell thin where the truck broke through Norwalk Truck Lines officials said the vehicle was loaded with 2,520 pounds, including three transformers being delivered to the new Newman school. Total weight of both cargo and truck, trucking company officials said, was 8,550 pounds.

Ashlander Asks Curb On Destruction of Trees

"We should be aware of how fast we are dispating our woods and forests and how this is causing erosion of our soil," Harry W. Hess, retired Ashland banker and tree expert, told members of the Rotary club yesterday at their noon luncheon at the Mansfield-Leland hotel

Hess called for laws to regulate the cutting of trees as do countries in Europe.

"There is no desirable shade tree that will grow rapidly," Hess said in explaining that he is often asked to recommend a good shade tree that will grow fast.

"When cutting a limb from a tree the entire limb should be cut off If a stump of any size is left, it will rot the entire tree A transplanted tree should be trimmed of at least half its limbs, to relieve the strain on the roots and the transplanted tree should be small."

Hess answered a score of questions from Rotary members who were concerned with trees around their homes. He was introduced by Rotarian John S Jones.

Miss Beveraly Wentz sang "Trees" and "You and the Night and the Music." She was accompanied by Mrs. Marie Porterfield Platt at the piano.

PIERRE, S. D. — (AP) — Who says the old west is finished to the extent that you can't kill a man and get away with it?

Today that question is under close scrutiny of the Supreme Court of South Dakota.

The state's highest judicial body is pondering the enigma of whether a white man can be prosecuted for the killing of another white man on an Indian reservation.

That such a wide open loophole could exist under present law, allowing no prosecution for a major crime, seems almost impossible. However, that possibility does exist, as shown by a circuit court's reversal of a verdict convicting Edwin A. Olson, 25, of the slaying of Harry Odlund, a South Dakota rancher and Olson's employer.

The facts leading up to the present perplexity the state supreme court finds itself in are as follows:

In 1901 the South Dakota legislature relinquished exclusive jurisdiction on Indian reservations to the federal government concerning 10 specific crimes: murder, manslaughter, rape, incest, assault, assault with intent to kill, assault with a dangerous weapon, burglary, robbery and larceny.

On Feb. 2, 1903, by an act of Congress, federal courts in South Dakota accepted jurisdiction. However, 45 years later, on Sept. 1, 1948, Congress passed another act under which it limited its authority over the 10 listed crimes to Indians.

Since then Indian reservations literally have been no-man's land for whites, since South Dakota has taken no steps to fill the breach in the law.

Olson's claim to immunity from the law rests on a matter of seven days, the interval between the death of Odlund, Sept. 7, and the date of the Federal Act, Sept. 1, 1948, which denied jurisdiction over whites on reservations.

In reversing the lower court verdict, Circuit Judge Lucius J. Wall did not free Olson of the murder charge for which he was serving a life sentence. He held Olson was not advised of his rights to an impartial trial and appointment of counsel when he pleaded guilty.

The question now is whether South Dakota can prosecute a white man for a major crime against another white man on an Indian reservation. If the ruling goes against the state, Olson may become a free man through a seven-day loophole in the law.

Flying Police Tag Flight Violators

NEW YORK — (INS) — New York City's flying cops are "tagging" airplane pilots for traffic violations.

First pilot to get a ticket was Capt. George R. Newhouser, of the Northeast airlines. Spotters of the police department's aviation division asserted he flew too low over the metropolitan area in coming into LaGuardia field for a landing.

Milk Strike Called Off By Truckers

Dispute Goes To Arbitrators

CINCINNATI — (AP) — There were milk deliveries as usual today in the greater Cincinnati area.

A contract between truck drivers, represented by a local of the Teamsters International Union (AFL), expired last midnight but members of the union voted at a mass meeting to call off an authorized strike.

No definite time had been set for the walkout but the strike could have started at midnight and thus cut off milk deliveries from 45 dairies.

The workers agreed last night to arbitrate their differences with the dairies. The companies previously had agreed to arbitration.

After the meeting union spokesmen issued a statement which said:

"In spite of the fact that the union doesn't feel it was being justly dealt with and because of the public responsibility and importance of the dairy product, members didn't wish to shut off the supply of such an important commodity and offered the only peaceful means of settlement—arbitration."

A board of arbitration will be named to consider the dispute.

Before agreeing to call off the strike, union members rejected a company offer which spokesmen said called for "a small increase in pay, a reduction in the work week and elimination of Sunday deliveries."

The workers are seeking a five-day week and increased wages as well as elimination of Sunday deliveries.

New Tax Equalization Law To Have Little Effect In County

that the state board of tax appeals has always had, and recognizes the fact that certain counties have failed to make proper appraisements.

He added that the act provides for equalization by the board if counties fail to do their own work properly.

The new values set by the current county re-appraisal will be used for tax purposes with the first collection in 1950, he said. The reappraisals are based on 1941 values as that year was neither a depression nor a peak year. That base is being used by most counties in Ohio, the auditor said.

The field work of reappraising is about 30 per cent completed in Mansfield. Actual reappraising is done in the office, based on information produced through the field work, Wolfe said.

The city has 13,500 parcels while Shelby has 3,200 parcels. Included in the totals are commercial and residential buildings and vacant lots.

Makes Appeal To Ruralists

NEWARK — (INS) — A self-styled "farmer boy with city ideas" today pegged his hopes for a seat in the U. S. Senate on "the unfailing good sense of the man of the soil."

William L. White, Licking county farmer-businessman looking for the Democratic nomination in 1950, told newsmen that he was "willing to put my election in the hands of the Ohio farmer because he's the one man you rely on to see the sensible side of an argument."

White asked:

"Why should America's farm laws be written by a bunch of office workers who wouldn't know a beef steer if they tripped over it?"

Armco Board OK's $12 Million Plant

MIDDLETOWN —(INS)— The Armco Steel corporation directors have authorized construction of a $12,000.000 steel-making plant at Middletown, capable of producing 400,000 tons of steel ingots a year.

Board chairman Charles R. Hook said the plant was needed because of a constant growth in steel consumption in the Armco area. He added that the three 225-ton open hearth furnaces were planned as the first unit in a larger expansion project.

Nurses Needed In Polio Wave

NEW YORK — (AP) — An emergency appeal for special nurses to deal with a rising number of infantile paralysis cases was issued today by Hospital Commissioner Marcus D. Kogel.

Dr. Kogel acted as 19 new polio cases were reported in an officially described "mild epidemic" in New York city. The health department put the number of cases since Jan. 1 at 247.

The hospital commissioner said he did not want to freighten the public or overemphasize the seriousness of the outbreak, but he added:

"We do need nurses badly to take care of the increasing number of polio cases and I appeal to every nurse who can give full time or part time to help us out in this emergency."

Communists Roll Over Rail City

CANTON, China — (UP) — Unofficial reports said today that communist troops have captured Changsha, major nationalist bastion on the rail line to Canton, and have forced nationalist troops to withdraw from Hengyang.

These reports said fighting in Changsha had ended after communist troops, last reported in the outskirts of the city, had crushed the defense of nationalist peace preservation corps troops left behind as a rear guard.

Fireworks Promised By Jury's Foreman

LOS ANGELES —(UP)—Foreman Harry Lawson of the county grand jury today promised "plenty of fireworks" tomorrow when the jurors are expected to return indictments against several high police officials.

The jury adjourns for vacation tomorrow night after a three-month vice investigation that turned up sensational charges of police graft and led to a general shakeup in the department.

Farm Couple Discovers New Sky Attraction, 'Tear-Drop'

BELLEFONTAINE — (INS) — Mr. and Mrs. Mac Hord, a Huntsville farm couple from near Belefontaine, saw something early Tuesday that had the old flying saucers beat all hollow.

They reported seeing a chameleon - like "planet", or some such thing, with a "tear-drop" shape which changed colors at least four times and sometimes appeared with four or five colors at once.

Hord said he and his wife first spotted the mystery light in the northeastern sky between 1 30 and 2 a. m. He said they first thought it was a guide light for a plane, but then noticed the strange phenomenon was stationary and changed colors.

Hord said they could see the red, then yellow and then opal with their naked eyes. He said 15 - power field glasses showed four or five different colors present simultaneously during repeated changes.

The farmer and his wife admitted astronomers may have a routine explanation for their changing tear drop, but they'd like to know what it is.

Blackberries, Apples Plentiful

County Harvesting Big Fruit Crop

That apple for the teacher should be cheaper this fall than it was last year.

Mansfield area fruit growers expect apples to be down in price this year because crop prospects are among the best in recent years. Farmers already are beginning to pick the early transparent apples and they term the picking "very good." Later apples also are expected to be abundant.

Richland countians are just beginning to harvest one of the biggest blackberry crops in a long time. Nearly every briar patch in the county promises gallons of fruit for the picking. Ideal weather conditions have made the berries large and plentiful.

Although there was a good crop of strawberries and raspberries, they sold for about the same price as last year, 50 and 55 cents a quart. The last of the strawberries were picked last month and raspberries are just about finished now.

On the other side of the picture, peaches and plums are expected to be more expensive than last season because of the poor crop. The peack and plum harvest this summer will be only about half as large as last year.

Last spring's late frosts and freezing weather nipped much fruit in the bud, orchardists said.

Freezing weather late in the season also damaged cherries which were scarce and consecquently higher priced this year.

Rationing Continues

FRANKFURT, Germany—(UP) — Twenty - one of the 27 countries in Europe still ration one to a dozen foods, a survey showed today.

Four years after the war, only Switzerland, Russia, Belgium, Poland, Greece, and Albania have abolished rationing entirely.

In a half dozen other countries, a decade of rationing will end this autumn.

The Swiss appear to be eating the best. The Albanians, although rationing has been abolished, are reported near starvation. The government ended rationing because food supplies were so short it was meaningless.

Britain and Germany eat the least of the non-communist European states. They are about on a par with most of the iron curtain group.

Recalled To Jobs

W. M. Drake, clerk to the supervisor, said today.

One of Mansfield's major industries, the Tappan Stove company has hired 100 persons back since January. Seventy-five of these regained their jobs in June. There are more large re-hirings in sight at Tappans, according to reports.

Mansfield Tire and Rubber company has recalled about 25 workers in recent weeks, but company spokesmen said today there is no extensive re-hiring in sight because production will be suspended for the first two weeks in August for vacations and inventory.

The recent consolidation of the Pennsylvania Rubber company with the Mansfield firm will eventually require more workers, but no figures are available now while the consolidation is in the primary stages.

Early in May the Mansfield rubber firm started to manufacture a sheet plastic, Vinyl film. About 100 workers were added in that department as production started. The plastic material is being manufactured in a division entirely separate from the tire and tube manufacturing departments.

$465,000 Phone Modernization Project Shapes In Ashland

Automatic Equipment Set For City

Land Purchased For New Building

By VIRGINIA LEED
N-J State Correspondent

ASHLAND — Modernization of telephone service in the Ashland area will begin with construction of a $465,000 project including telephone building with all-automatic equipment early in 1950, according to announcement by William C. Henry, Bellevue, president and general manager of the Northern Ohio Telephone company, new owner of the Ashland exchange.

The company has completed a deal for purchase of a vacant lot at 122 W. Main street, formerly occupied by a two-story frame structure which burned down several years ago.

The grounds extend through from Main to Second streets. The lot extends 32.75 feet along Main street and 53.24 feet along Second street taking in two buildings now facing Second street.

The brick and stone structure will house the commercial office, 2,200 lines of automatic or dial equipment, with a new 12-operator position long-distance switchboard on the second floor, with new equipment. Ashland long distance operators may dial into the nation-wide toll dial network of the A. T. and T. system permitting completion of more than 90 per cent of all long distance calls in one minute.

The company also will replace all subscribers equipment with dial phones. The new equipment will be constructed to handle anticipated growth of the city, according to the company president.

Northern Ohio purchased the Ashland Star Telephone company last year, thereby adding to its chain of exchanges. The local company which was organized in 1899 and provided one of the first electrical jobs for Charles F. Kettering, native Ashland countian and now dean of American inventors.

FOLLOWS PROTEST

Announcement of the modernization and expansion program comes directly on the heels of a wide-spread move by groups in cities served by Ohio Northern to prevent the state utilities commission from granting the company its requested phone rate increase.

Ashland's Bar association is among those organizations in the area which has filed a formal protest against the rate increase with the public utilities commission. Ashland city council has not made any formal protest, declaring its intentions of waiting until the utilities commission gives formal notice of action on the rate request.

Europe Inclined To Lean Heavily

BERNARD BARUCH has won the title of "elder statesman" through the sound, carefully-weighed advice he has given to succeeding administrations in the national capital. Therefore, what he has to say now about the Marshall plan merits careful consideration.

Baruch seems to feel that the European recovery program has defeated its own purpose in that it has taught Europe to use American dollars as a crutch rather than as a plow or a trowel. Europe would like to just keep leaning on us, it appears. This, of course, is the very thing the ERP was aimed against. Indeed, it is not recovery at all.

To be sure, Europe is much better off than at the end of the war. And American money has helped. But an injured man who is learning to walk again must sometime walk by himself or he will be forever a burden.

And a salient point, made by Mr. Baruch, is that the American laborer and the American taxpayer are being bled to permit Europe to continue its quasi-debility.

It may well be time, as the statesman indicates, for this country to begin looking out for itself—and not from entirely selfish reasons, either. For, if the United States should lose its wealth and power and vigor, not we alone would sag but all of the world which looks to us for support of democratic ideals and for material help in times of economic distress would stumble with us.

Strangers Notice Such Things

NEWCOMERS to Mansfield are more likely to be impressed by local non-enforcement of traffic regulations than are long-time residents who have become accustomed to frequent infractions of laws designed for protection of pedestrians and other motorists.

"What gets me," said one recent arrival in the city, "is the way drivers rush through intersections on the change from amber to red."

Another observed that the driver of a car stopped by the red light had fully occupied the pedestrian crosswalk, without appearance of concern for the number of people required to walk around in front or rear of his car.

Still another pointed out a parked car in a metered space that was occupying about one-half each of two spaces, instead of being within the white lines of either.

Double parking also continues as a nuisance on some of the heavy-traffic thoroughfares, as does wrong direction driving in one-way alleys, but it is probably only those who are accustomed to better enforcement methods in other cities who will direct attention to such things—except when an accident occurs as a result.

Pilots Who Fly Too Low

LOW-FLYING airplanes continue to be either a persistent or a periodic annoyance to city and suburban dwellers alike. Occasional accidents caused by such craft do nothing to allay the fears felt by the man on the ground when a plane skims by a few hundred feet above his head or home. And during the time the low flier is in the neighborhood there's not much point in trying to carry on a conversation, listen to the radio, read, or do much else.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration has rules about such things, and many states and local communities have their own laws to protect residents from the danger and annoyance of low-flying planes. The trouble is in enforcing the rules and laws.

Speech Reveals Growing Rift

"WE WOULD like to have good relations with all the world", says Savo N. Kosanovitch, Yugoslav ambassador to the United States, who has just returned to his country for consultation with his superiors. He adds, "Peace will be preserved, despite all difficulties".

As sometimes happens, what he did not say was perhaps more significant than what he did. He failed to attack the United States as a capitalist tyranny fomenting international strife and plotting the destruction of the "people's democracy", i.e., communism. By this failure to indulge in the customary rant in which Molotov and Vishinsky have indulged, he emphasizes anew the growing rift between Soviet Russia and Yugoslavia.

Example In Peaceful Agreement

THE shooting war in Palestine has been over for so long that most people no longer think of it as current news, but the latest armistice agreement has just been signed. It is between Israel and Syria, which have been bargaining for three and a half months.

When two warring nations can lay their weapons at their sides and argue for that long over an agreement to quit fighting, finally making the talks bear fruit, there is some hope that people are learning how to get along together.

There is always a bright side, and Harry Wade tells of the fellow in the cigar store who said that a recession "didn't scare him, as he came from a long line of poor people."

WASHINGTON REPORT

By SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

PRESIDENT Truman's recent Economic Report and radio address make it clear that he has only one solution for every economic difficulty of the nation—more spending by the federal government. He was for it when we were threatened with inflation and he's for it now when we're threatened with deflation. He insists that Congress should not cut a cent off the budget of a thousand federal activities, and he insists that the necessity of government spending is enough to justify every project. Huge government spending has from the beginning been one of the essential features of his 1949 over-all program designed to follow the labor-socialist government of England into a totalitarian state, directing the life and activity of every citizen.

There's little doubt now that the people are concerned. They don't want more taxes. They don't want to see the budget go over the $40 billion figure, which seems so tremendous for federal spending in peacetime.

But the President in addition to a budget of $42 billion, which is $8 billion more than he spent in 1947 under a Republican Congress, has urged Congress to adopt other measures increasing this to almost $60 billion annually. Of these extra proposals, the Brannan farm plan in its full development might cost $6 billion a year in subsidies, socialized medicine would cost another $6 billion, and universal military training another $4 billion.

Even without these extra proposals, our total national tax burden, including taxes collected by states and local governments, today stands at $60 billion a year. It means that we all work, on an average, more than one day in every four for the government. Such a burden increases prices for all consumers, kills the incentive of individuals, and particularly discourages those who want to start new businesses and create new jobs.

* * *

MR TRUMAN is indignant at the 81st Congress as he was at the 80th Congress for only one reason because it will not approve his idea of a government undertaking to do the spending for its citizens which they would like to do for themselves, and undertaking to direct all the details of the billions of transactions which occur each week in the United States

Mr Truman denounces Congress because it believes in a system assuring liberty to our people; because it believes that we have become the greatest nation in the world only because of that liberty; because Congress will not abandon the free system which has produced the high production, the high national income and the high standard of living, of which he boasts. Excessive taxation is about as certain a way to socialize the country as any other way.

We have come to a point where we must determine the limit of our tax burden and then cut our expenses to meet our income and pay something on the national debt. Every individual in this country has to give up things he would like to have because he hasn't got the money to pay for them. The government is no different from any individual.

It is complete nonsense to say that the government cannot cut its expense. There is not a bureau in Washington which couldn't cut out 10% of its personnel and be more efficient. An average 10% reduction would balance the budget.

* * *

THE welfare of the world depends more than any one thing on the prosperity of the United States. To recover from the present recession and to assure continued prosperity, the first firm foundation must be a solvent efficient government.

The present Congress is not a negative Congress, although its greatest merit will be that it has prevented measures which would change the whole nature of our government.

Congress is fighting for the cause of free government; for equality in the relation of labor and management, for equality in the treatment of farmers and city folk, for prosperity and full employment through sound fiscal and credit policies, and for the liberty of our farmers, workmen businessmen and housewives to live their lives as they want to live them.

Speaking of Your Health

Severe Asthma Attacks

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE gasping, wheezing victim of a severe asthmatic attack is not only uncomfortable but is, at times, in actual danger. Hence he must be given prompt treatment both to relieve the seizure as quickly as possible and to support him while it lasts

Sedative or quieting drugs will tend to relax the patient and make him more comfortable, but, unfortunately, such patients are particularly susceptible to drug reactions.

For this reason neither morphine nor the barbiturates should be used The combination of chloral hydrate and sodium bromide, given by rectum at intervals of 12 hours, is advised by some physicians

The patient with severe asthma is usually dehydrated. That is, he has lost considerable amounts of fluid from the body, and it is important that this fluid be replaced.

It may be given in the form of sugar solution or a glucose solution injected into a vein. This is allowed to run in slowly. In some cases, salt solution may be added. However, in cases of severe heart disease or heart failure, the salt is not employed.

Breathing Oxygen.

Another form of treatment which is helpful is the breathing of oxygen since, in asthma, the patient is unable to expel the air from the lungs as he should; hence not enough air can be taken into the lungs to provide for the body needs.

Occasionally a mixture of the gas known as helium and oxygen is given since this mixture can enter the lungs more easily than the oxygen alone.

Another form of treatment which seems to be helpful is the giving of epinephrine by inhalation, that is, by breathing it into the lungs.

If the patient has an infection in the lungs, penicillin or streptomycin may be used in the form of a mist which can be breathed in.

Sometimes the asthmatic patient has thick mucus in the bronchi which can be sucked out, and this, too, aids in relieving the symptoms.

Treatment of a severe attack of asthma is complicated and requires much in the way of equipment not available at home. Moreover, constant watchfulness is needed. For these reasons, such patients are best treated in a hospital.

Aid Dollars Mean More Labor Hours

By JOHN H. MARTIN

SAME American commodity prices may be falling, but there is no question today that the price of peace in the "cold war" is steadily rising.

President Truman's military aid bill for western Europe and other lands totals nearly one and one-half billion dollars, and another congressional battle is starting.

Opponents of the bill argue that the total —added to the $15 billion U. S. military budget and the more than four billion dollars more Marshall aid funds this fiscal year— is just too much for the taxpayers.

It is estimated that by this time next year—if all appropriations go through—the United States will have expended in foreign aid approximately $28 billion in the post-war years

Even that figure is not likely to be enough, judged by present indications Marshall aid is slated to end in 1952, but another dollar-crisis has hit Britain already.

The pleas for dollar-aid—and dollar aid really means the actual labor hours of the American worker—still roll in from many lands outside the Russian communist belt.

In the fiscal year now under way it is estimated that the Russian-inflamed "cold war" will take one dollar of every four in the national budget

The Hoover Commission estimated that the maintenance of U. S. armed strength alone—not Europe's—is costing every man, woman and child in the country $100 a year as compared to two dollars and twenty-five cents a year before the Second World War

The administration attitude is that all these expenditures are worth the gamble of avoiding a third world war—and that we must have armed allies abroad, not disarmed victims of another aggression.

The administration argument makes these points

1. "It is a realistic program—but not a panacea for international ills and it alone will not put an end to the 'cold war.'

2 Western nations have won the initiative in the cold war and "under no circumstances must it be lost"

3. It will have only a "m[illegible]fect" on the national economy.

What every American w[illegible]w is when will the peak of foreign aid s[illegible] be reached Nobody, not even the government experts, can predict such an event.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Van Zandt Renews His Earlier Charges

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Last spring damning accusations were made in the House of Representatives impugning the patriotism of high defense officials regarding the airplane in which the nation was placing much of its confidence —the B-36.

The secretary of defense, Louis Johnson, and the secretary of air, Stuart Symington, it was charged, had ordered the B-36 because Johnson had previously been employed by Floyd Odlum, manufacturer of the B-36; while Symington had been wined and dined by Odlum. It was also alleged that Symington's former company—Emerson Electric of St. Louis—had profited unethically at the expense of the taxpayers in manufacturing gun turrets for the B-29.

These charges naturally shake the confidence of the country in its high officials responsible for national defense. Several weeks have passed and it remains important to know what was behind these charges and whether they were true.

This column can now state that the origin of the congressional attacks was an anonymous smear sheet first circulated by Glenn L. Martin, president of the Glenn L. Martin Co., of Baltimore, well-known manufacturer of Navy planes.

The memo viciously attacking Johnson and Symington was shown by Martin to other airplane manufacturers who also wanted air force business, and who were being left out in the cold because the air force had switched to the B-36.

Later the same memo, with some additions, turned up on Capitol Hill, where it obviously became the source material for the attacks delivered by Congressman Jimmy Van Zandt, Pennsylvania Republican, a naval reserve captain.

The wording of Van Zandt's speech was somewhat different, though in places it was almost indentical.

For example, the smear memo said:

"In 1947 the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation was in financial straits. Its principal asset was a contract for one hundred B-36 aircraft. There was doubt that the contract would be completed."

In contrast, Van Zandt said: "In 1947 the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation held contracts for 100 B-36 bombers. At that time there was considerable doubt as to whether the contracts would ever be validated."

Glenn Martin's tactics in talking to other airplane manufacturers failed. They did not join him. Meanwhile, the reason for his desperation can be found in his own ledger sheets.

In 1948 his company showed a loss of $16,710,762, on top of which it still owes the Reconstruction Finance Corporation $16,372,521, payable in September 1950. The company's financial statement also contains this illuminating disclosure:

"An operating profit from military sales was offset by losses in the commercial airplane program. . . ." In other words, Martin's only profit was made from Uncle Sam, and he lost money on non-government business.

Since all this happened, Glenn Martin has been quietly eased out of the presidency of his company into the less active job of chairman of the board.

* * *

Symington's Record.

ONE of the statements made by Congressman Van Zandt was that Symington's Emerson Electric Corporation had been renegotiated on its B-29 gun-turret contracts in 1948 by Col. Franklin Wolfe of the air forces, who whitewashed the company, thus costing U. S. taxpayers $20,000,000.

This was a rumor which this columnist heard in 1945, at the time Symington first entered the government as war assets administrator.

Upon investigation, this columnist became convinced there was nothing to the charge. Symington had a fine record at Emerson Electric of which he can be proud.

Furthermore, Congressman Van Zandt's smear is obviously false since Colonel Wolfe retired from the army in 1945, so he could not have renegotiated the Emerson contract in 1948.

* * *

Admirals Transferred.

INTERESTING to note is the fact that Vice Adm. A. W. Radford, former deputy chief of naval operations in charge of air, and a vigorous crusader against the B-36, has been moved out to Hawaii.

Also, the navy's former press chief, Rear Adm. Edward Ewen, another tireless propagandist against the B-36, has been moved to Guam—not an active area for press relations.

Also interesting: Glenn Martin's front man and lobbyist on Capitol Hill was Harold Mosher, ex-congressman from Ohio and a Republican. Mosher is a close friend and distant relative of Congressman Clarence Brown, also of Ohio, one of the leaders of the Republican party in the House. Significantly, the first congressman to attack the B-36 was lobbyist Mosher's cousin, Clarence Brown.

Another rooter for Glenn Martin has been Senator Tydings of Maryland. He has talked to the air force about buying planes from Martin, who is one of his constituents.

* * *

Van Zandt Attacks Again.

NOT CONTENT with the first smear, congressman Van Zandt renewed the attack in a recent speech which the press apparently missed. Never delivered on the House floor, it was quietly inserted in the appendix of the Congressional Record. In it, Van Zandt himself refers to the mysterious memorandum.

"There was also the mysterious memorandum that was seen by many members of the House, including the gentleman from Georgia, the chairman of the House armed services committee," Van Zandt said.

Battling Draft Dodger

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK — Look who's fighting! Serge Rubinstein! You remember him, the socially prominent draft dodger of World War II.

Sure, it was only a night club fight. But he fought, didn't he? And that's more than Uncle Sam could ever make him do in some three years of earnest effort to get a gun in his hand.

If that isn't page one news, then I didn't cover the trial of Russian-born Rubinstein for the most determined campaign ever waged to keep out of fox holes and preserve simon-pure his amateur standing as a warrior.

It is not only a matter of some moment that Rubinstein engaged in battle, even in a night club, but it is almost as touching to learn that Rubinstein charged into the fray to defend what some cynics regard as a highly negotiable quality — his honor. To think that he cared!

But he did care. And when some uncouth American refused to accept an introduction to this high strung boy of no more than 41 summers, merely because he had been in the federal pokey, Rubinstein came out charging.

This once devout pacifist let his adversary have it. Fortunately, Rubinstein didn't have it, and the bout ended in a standing tie or nolo contendre.

But it definitely served notice on the American public that Rubinstein can be made to fight. Uncle Sam just didn't have the combination.

* * *

Not Wanted Anywhere.

THE LATEST night club brawl churned up Rubinstein, who has not been much in the public eye since he ceased last April to be a guest of the government at the federal repository in Lewisburg, Pa., where he served two years of a 2-½ year sentence for draft-dodging.

But it is nice to know that Rubinstein is still able to afford the comforts and the fancy vittles of air-conditioned supper clubs, although he is not now seen in the more conspicuous of the glitter palaces where he was once a princely playboy.

It sort of set me to thinking, which — in turn — set me to making inquiries. And although I do not wish to appear inhospitable, I discovered to my dismay, that Uncle Sam may be stuck with Rubinstein the rest of his natural life despite deportation proceedings.

Rubinstein, in extremis at the end of his draft dodging career, claimed he was a Portuguese citizen and thus exempt from fighting as a neutral alien.

When Rubinstein copped that plea he out-smarted himself for the rest of his natural life. For any person who refuses to fight on this pretext, forever bars himself from becoming an American citizen.

But Serge has two good chances of spending the rest of his life in the U. S. A. He must stand trial Wednesday, July 27, on two federal indictments charging $3,000,000 stock rigging deal. (In addition, the government has filed a lien for $1,200,000 for unpaid income taxes.)

If Rubinstein is convicted for fraud, he may serve another stretch, and this a good long one, in federal durance vile as Uncle Sam's guest.

But even if he beats this rap, the government continues to press its deportation proceedings, the United States may still be stuck with Rubinstein. Since his conviction as a draft dodger, the Portuguese government has rescinded any claim to citizenship Rubinstein may ever have had in that country.

He still has a Nassen passport, given to stateless persons after World War I. However, if Portugal won't have him, Uncle Sam may have great difficulty in getting any other nation to accept a man whose past is so checkered and whose financial machinations are known the world over.

Rubinstein will fight deportation proceedings tooth and nail. This country may not be worth fighting for, but where else in this postwar world can a guy eat so good?

Frankly Speaking

Truman Arms Program

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — Trading guns for time, with the emphasis on time.

That's the core of President Truman's request to Congress for arms for this country's allies.

The state department — backing him up with a 41 - page booklet explaining his request in detail — says:

"Our assistance must reach its destination in time to achieve its purpose."

Why the speed? The thinking goes like this:

This country's allies, particularly in western Europe, have been trying to recover from the war, with our help. They've been making progress but their recovery will remain jittery and incomplete so long as they're afraid of Russia.

Says the state department:

"Beneath the confidence that the present degree of recovery has engendered, there is a pervasive fear that the gains may be swept away by aggression on the part of the Soviet Union."

That "aggression" could take several forms. For one, direct attack. Right now Russia is in so much better shape, militarily, it could overrun the western European countries.

There's another form of aggression. That's Russian pressure without a shot being fired. For example:

Under pressure from heavily-armed Russia, in unarmed western European country — fearing attack if it didn't agree — might let its own native communists take over.

President Truman made that point pretty clear in his message to Congress.

". . . The nations of western Europe have not been able to ignore the necessity of a military defense for themselves.

"They have seen what the Soviet Union has done to nations (in eastern Europe) for which it professed friendship and with which it was recently allied.

"They have observed how a communist coup De-etat, operating in the shadow of the massed military might of the Soviet Union, can overthrow, at one stroke, the democratic liberties and the political independence of a friendly nation."

* * *

What Might Happen.

HE WAS referring to Czechoslovakia, of course. That country's frontier adjoins Russia's. Czechoslovakia's own communists got themselves into key positions in the government.

Then when they felt the time was right, they grabbed the whole government, with Russia standing by, watching. Immediately, Czechoslovakia became a Russian puppet.

But suppose we send a western European power arms and, in some way, communists legitimately are elected to office by the people of that country, putting them in a position to grab control.

Suppose then they do grab it, taking over the government and the arms we sent that country, and then ally themselves with Russia, as they would. They could use our own arms against us.

What then? Mr. Truman didn't supply an answer for that one, at least directly.

But the whole aim of his message, asking money of Congress for arms for allies was this:

If those countries recover economically, the people of those countries won't have to elect communists to find a solution for their poverty, because there won't be poverty.

But, unless those countries have arms to stand off Russia, they'll remain so jittery they won't recover economically — at least completely — and, unless they do, the door is left open to the communists.

So, he reasons, the way to block the communists, inside and outside a country, is to help it economically and militarily as soon as possible.

Mothers-In-Law Cause Most In-Law Trouble

Women are the cause of most in-law trouble, with mothers in-law responsible in three out of five cases

That's the conclusion of a study (made without comparing notes) of 953 married couples by Judson and Mary Landis of Michigan State college, authors of "The Marriage Handbook." The survey is published in the August issue of Better Homes & Gardens magazine

Odds are one in three that daughters in law have in-law trouble compared to one in five for sons-in-law according to the article Sisters-in-law were blamed in one in five cases of friction, while fathers in-law were held responsible in one out of seven cases Brothers in-law were deemed trouble-makers in only one of 20 instances

The survey was conducted among two groups The first — 409 couples — had been married an average of 20 years none had been divorced and 85 percent said their marriages were happy This group rated in law trouble the second worst headache in married life The men put it in third place

In the second group were 544 couples none of whom had been married longer than six years This group said in-laws were their No 1 marriage problem Husbands and wives questioned blame their mothers in law on three counts

1 Hovering over their married children giving them too much advice and trying too hard to help them

2 Irritating their children in law by demanding too much devotion and attention

Daughters-in law contribute to in law trouble by letting their desire to be the one woman in their husbands lives cause them to be jealous of their mothers in law and prejudiced in their judgment according to the study

Sisters in law were blamed for taking too critical an interest in how their in laws are living their lives and for creating misunderstanding by passing on information

Sons in law contribute to strife by being sensitive about their rights as head of the family and by interpreting many innocent actions of their wives' families as interference the article says Fathers-in-law add fuel to the fire when they spoil their daughters and become irked when husbands expect them to act like responsible adults Also listed as bad practice for dads is the giving of too much financial help to married children and attempting to use this as an indirect means of control

The one brother-in law in 20 held responsible for in law trouble was blamed for failure to hide his feelings when he thinks his sister or brother has made a poor choice of mate

Here's how to be the lucky fellow (or woman) that no one seems to hate according to the article

Don't give unsolicited advice to your in laws Never let your irritation show when your in laws offer you advice Like your in-laws and consider them among your real friends Don't feel that your in laws don't understand or appreciate you Don't quote your family or their way of doing things as a model for your mate And don't discuss the faults of your husband or wife with members of your own family

Cultivate Art Of Using Perfume

What price a flower without fragrance A pretty face delights the eye a sweet voice charms the ear but unless you cultivate the art of using perfume you're missing a third big asset says the Woman's Home Companion There are many ways continues the magazine of investing yourself with a delicate and desirable aura First choose a fragrance that makes you feel lovelier Second use it as fine things should be used — with a light and loving hand Touch the scent behind your ears sprinkle it on freshly washed hair or apply it to the hem of the gown but use it with a sparing hand

Perfume in small amounts distributed about the person is more effective than a single big splash Don't expect one application to last indefinitely carry perfume with you and retouch as necessary One way to have your favorite scent always at hand is to wear a bracelet with a bottle bangle Or there is a jaunty little conversation piece in the form of a lapel pin which has a tiny bottle of perfume attached

A Friendly Sunday Breakfast Designed For Guests

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

When I was a little girl my uncles and some of my father's friends often used to drop in on Sunday morning to see him and to talk over the crops the state of the world or maybe just the doings in Our Town I would occasionally be elected to bring in a tray of coffee to them from the kitchen

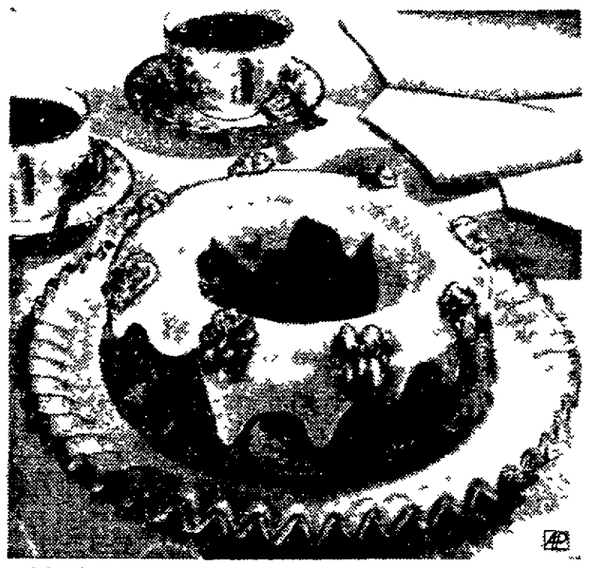
Along with the coffee my mother would send some of her special cinnamon buns — really coffee kuchen that a Viennese friend had taught her to make — or a quick bread that she put together when she first heard the doorbell ring

It's a friendly gesture that one of welcoming unexpected guests for a second round of Sunday morning coffee It's pleasant to, sometimes, to invite friends for a special 'first' breakfast In the latter case the menu ought to adhere to the same breakfast pattern recommended for every day in the year — fruit cereal, milk, bread and butter — plus any other suitable foods appetite and budget allow For nutritionists have discovered that if you don't get about one - third of the days nutrients in the morning it's hard to make them up in the other two meals of the day

There's no end to the variations you can make on that breakfast theme — especially for a weekend splurge A California friend of mine Essie Eliot who is known for her fine home economics and nutrition work in that state told me about a simple fruit starter I've come to love It's just sliced bananas in orange juice — chilled of course and wonderfully delicious

Sometimes I add sectioned oranges to the banana slices and I'm careful to cut them right! First have your paring knife very sharp Then cut the peel round and round taking off all the white membrane with the rind Go over the orange again cutting off any spots of membrane you may have missed Then insert the knife blade down along the membrane wall of an orange section to the center, without lifting the knife turn it with a twist of the wrist so that it will cut away the section from the other supporting wall

Start off with this or some other fruit dish and go on to cereal My favorite way of serving any of the crisp ready - to - eat cereals is with sliced fresh dates and thin cream



TOP-OF-THE MORNING FARE Fruit Coffee Ring

Eggs in some form may of course, be on the menu For some reason or other when we serve ham or bacon with eggs in our family we always want something sweet with it — a preserve or a jelly, of a sweet bread Most of these quick loaves are best when served fresh and warm

Fruit Coffee Ring

1⅞ cups sifted all - purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon cinnamon
1-9 teaspoon cloves
¾ cup sugar
1-3 cup vitaminized margarine
1 egg beaten
¾ cup milk
½ teaspoon lemon extract
1 cup raisins
Confectioners' sugar
6 to 8 whole walnut kernels plain or glazed

Sift flour with baking powder salt cinnamon cloves and sugar Cut vitaminized margarine into flour mixture with pastry blender or 2 knives to form coarse crumbs Beat milk egg Add to dry ingredients with raisins, stirring just enough to mix well Spoon into a greased 9-inch ring mold Bake in a moderate (375oF) oven 25 minutes While still warm spread with icing made by adding enough confectioners' sugar to 1 tablespoon of milk to make a rather stiff mixture Top with walnut kernels

Club Holds Picnic

HOROSCOPE

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, July 28

The astral indications for the moment seem to be for a static and stagnant state of affairs in which it may be difficult to break up crystallized conditions or to inaugurate effective ways and means for breaking up obstacles and laying ground work for future or enduring progress. Stubborn diligence, shrewd analysis as to fundamentals for sustained efforts and long - term activities, may yield eventual security and permanency.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, seem to have their work cut out for them, since limitations, obstacles, impediments and frustrations, seem to dominate a static and crystalized state of affairs. However, along the difficult way there is pleasant adventure, diversion and relaxation.

A child born on this day may need early training in determination, diligence, perseverance and optimism to overcome crystallizations. At the same time there may be exceptional social or romantic rewards for sterling qualities.

Snack Treat

Use a buckwheat corn mix to bake small thin pancakes about the size of a half dollar. Place one on a small plate. Pour melted butter over it. Spread it with caviar. A second pancake should be placed on top and the whole thing covered with sour cream. Some like a garnish of chopped egg yolk.

Broiled tomatoes and a tossed green salad are delicious accompaniment for many creamed dishes — dried beef tuna chicken.

Commerce Department Moves to Lower Tire Costs

Ease Rules On Use of Synthetics

Will Lower Cost To Manufacturers

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Commerce department moved yesterday to help manufacturers lower production cost of tires—one of the few products now selling at less than pre-war prices.

The action was an easing of the amounts of synthetic rubber required to be used in making certain tires and tubes.

Officials told a reporter the move will enable manufacturers to use more of cheaper raw materials. Natural rubber prices recently dropped to about 16½ cents a pound compared with 18½ for synthetic.

The requirements for using synthetic rubber were designed to provide a market and support for the war-time created U. S. industry. This helped to keep it going as a factor in national security.

Officials said the changes also are intended to give tire-makers "greater flexibility in planning production by permitting freedom of choice in a larger amount of new rubber they consume."

One change permits the bigger (7.50 cross section and larger) truck and bus tires to be made without any synthetic rubber. Formerly they had to contain an average of three per cent synthetic.

Another change makes it unnecessary to use synthetic for bicycle tires.

A third change cuts the amount of butyl synthetic rubber which must be used in certain inner tubes to a minimum of 45 per cent. Previously, manufacturers were required to use at least 6 per cent.

From a production standpoint a major change was in the grouping of tire sizes required to be made with specified percentages of synthetic.

Groupings are important because for each group the regulations say a certain overall average of synthetic must be used, but a considerably smaller than average percentage of synthetic will suffice for individual items in the group.

Under the changes, there will be these two groups:

1. All passenger, motorcycle and front tires for farm and garden tractors, plus all tires from 7.50 cross section down used on buses, farm and garden implements, and industrial vehicles. All these types of tires must have a minimum of five per cent synthetic in each individual tire, while the minimum average for the group will be 45 per cent synthetic.

2. Rear tires for farm tractors and all other farm implements. Individual tires must have as much as 55 per cent synthetic and the group average will be 80 per cent.

Outlook Unit Seeks Funds For Building

Former Church Site Considered

Members of the Mansfield chapter of the Future Outlook League are raising funds to purchase a building owned by the Grace Gospel church, located at 566 Lida street. The church formerly used the four-room building as a mission house.

The building, 54 feet long and 40 feet wide, will serve as a community center. It is equipped with a large recreation room and playground, according to J. D. Middlebrook, president of the league. After repairs are made the league plans to operate a night school in reading and writing and a day nursery on the site.

To raise the first $1,000 of the $2,500 purchase price, the 300 members of the league will be assessed and all churches, clubs and interested persons will be contacted for contributions.

Jars will be placed in all business establishments so that anyone may make a contribution. Posters will be displayed throughout the city explaining the purpose of the campaign.

The Future Outlook League is a national organization with headquarters in Cleveland. Besides Middlebrook, officers of the Mansfield branch include Wilmer Fowler, vice president, W. A. Dansby, treasurer, and Miss Alice Lindsay, secretary.

Middlebrook said the purpose of the organization is "to try to make economic conditions better for negroes and be of service to the community."

Radiation Fears Hit

CHICAGO — (AP) — An Atomic Energy Commission doctor said yesterday atom bomb radiation is "perhaps the most over-evaluated" hazard of war.

This opinion was expressed by Col. James P. Cooney, a member of the AEC's medical advisory staff. Writing in the July issue of Radiology, a journal for specialists in X-ray and radium, he said:

"the residual radiation from an air burst bomb is insignificant. The significant radiation occurs in a matter of microseconds and does not extend beyond a 2,000-yard radius.

"Immediately after a detonation such as occurred at Hiroshima or Nagasaki, it is perfectly safe to enter into a bombed area and rescue the thousands whose injuries will be such that they will not be able to walk."

Colonel Cooney, who heads the AEC's radiological branch, said emphasis of reports on precautions taken against radiation effects after the underwater test at Bikini stirred "unfortunate psychological reactions."

LUNCH TIME—Three lions—Romeo, Rolf and Nero—sit calmly on their "chairs" as newsmen and women have lunch in the lions cage at Giessen, Germany. The affair was arranged by the circus appearing in Giessen and the three ten-year-old berber lions sat eyeing the guests for half an hour without getting the least bit "naughty."

Mother Says Amelia Earhart Died While On Secret 'Job'

LOS ANGELES — (UP) — Aviatrix Amelia Earhart, who disappeared on a round-the-world flight in 1937, "died in Japan" on a secret U. S. government mission, her mother has reported.

Mrs. Amy Otis Earhart believes her daughter landed on a tiny atoll and was picked up by a Japanese fishing boat that took her to the Marshall islands, then controlled by the Japanese.

"I am sure there was a government mission involved in the flight because Amelia explained there were some things she could not tell me," the white-haired octogenarian said. "I am equally sure she did not make a forced landing in the sea.

The aviatrix disappeared July 3, 1937, while flying from Lae, New Guinea, to Howland island.

Japanese officials took her from the Marshall islands to Japan, Mrs. Earhart believes.

"There she met with an accidnet—an arranged accident that ended her life," she said. "I hoped that she might be returned to this country during the war in exchange for some captured Japanese general or admiral but I gave that idea up after the war ended."

Will Have Delegates, No Housing

New Problems Hit West Europe Capital

STRASBOURG — (AP) — Strasbourg's ugliest building — a former palace built for Kaiser Wilhelm II, who never lived in it — will serve as offices for western Europe's statesmen when they meet for the first time in their new "capital" next month.

The massive Rhine palace, with its yellow and pink stone facings in a German adaption of the florentine style, has long been a sore point with many Strasbourgers who feel it is a blot on their otherwise beautiful city. They rejoiced when a shell hit it early in the war, then regretted that the damage was so slight.

The mayor of Strasbourg is willing, even eager, to pull down "this monstrous German wedding cake." He would like to put up something really worthey of western union in its place. But that would take at least a hundred million francs.

"It was all put up for show," says Mayor Charles Frey, with a delicate Gallic shudder of the shoulders. "Most of the space is taken by staircases and corridors and there is hardly a decent - sized room in the place. Besides there's virtually no plumbing."

While the permanent secretariat makes the best of conditions in the former imperial palace, plenary sessions of the western Europe consultative assembly will take place in the borrowed hall of Strasbourg university just across the square. Meanwhile steps are being taken to hurry repair work on the bomb-damaged music conservatoire nearby, which is considered more suitable as a permanent meeting-place.

More difficult may be the provisions of adequate living accommodations for the delegates and their staffs. Strasbourg, which had several of its hotels totally destroyed in the war, estimates it can turn up about 2,500 rooms at a pinch (but not nearly so many bathrooms).

Several damaged hotels are being hastily repaired and a group of city businessmen is considering floating a corporation to build a big new one.

Meanwhile the problem is further complicated this year by the fact that 600 rooms have already been reserved for the Strasbourg fair, which is due to open in September right on the heels of the statesmen's convention.

"The real trouble is," Mayor Frey explained, "we don't know how many people are coming or just what they will need. Everyone here still is working in the dark."

The mayor plans to lodge delegates of ministerial rank in the Chateau Des Pourtales, which stands amidst a park on the outskirts of the city.

U. S. Information Officer Franklin Roudybusy, of Washington, D. C., is hiring a 13th - century castle for the American press at Scharrarbergheim, some 12 miles away.

Steps are being taken to increase the city police force to provide additional security for the delegates and guard against any diplomatic incidents.

See Bright Air Future For State

CAA Releases Survey Results

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics administration said yesterday a new survey shows a bright future for commercial airlines serving Ohio.

Seven Ohio cities rank among the 50 in the nation handling the biggest volume of air freight and passenger traffic.

The survey indicates they probably will stay among the top 50 at least until 1955, the year to which the study was projected to guide airport officials in planning facilities.

Cleveland, the study showed, ranks fifth among the cities in outgoing airfreight handled. Cincinnati 14th, Akron 25th, Dayton 27th, Columbus 30th, Toledo 31st and Youngstown 39th.

The CAA has no figures on incoming freight handled at airports, but has drawn a picture of what they may expect by 1955 in both incoming and outgoing freight.

Cleveland, it said, can expect its outgoing freight volume to rise from the 1948 total of 7,732 tons to 16,455 in 1955, and may expect a combined incoming and outgoing total of 31,855 tons of freight.

A national ranking prediction for 1955 would have little value, a spokesman said.

Cincinnati can expect its outgoing freight total to rise from 2,143 tons in 1948 to 11,040 in 1955, and a combined incoming and outgoing freight tonnage of 21,045 in 1955, it said.

Comparable figures, in the same order, follow for the other Ohio cities listed:

Columbus: 1,005, 2,760 and 7,475; Akron: 2,315, 2,760 and 7,015; Dayton: 1,045, 2,645 and 5,980; Toledo: 836, 2,164 and 6,419; Youngstown: 534, 1,968 and 7,143.

A CAA spokesman said the 1955 predictions are based on a variety of factors including planned and expectable developments in exploiting opportunities to carry air freight cargoes.

He said big gains would not necessarily mean a need for big expansion of airfields.

WRECKAGE—A stalled tank truck and trailer lie scattered over the street in Montebello, Calif., after the Union Pacific streamliner, "City of Los Angeles" smashed into the vehicle. The truck driver and engineer of the train were critically injured. No passengers aboard the train were hurt.

Asks Pension For Indian War Wounds

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Indian fighter James Finley's application for a pension must be made to Washington, the Ohio Adjutant General's office said yesterday.

Finley is a resident of Perry county. Service Officer Harlan Smith gave this account of Finley's service:

He served with the Ninth Field Artillery under General Lyons on the border of Indian territory in the Oklahoma region between 1882 and 1885. He was wounded three times by Indian arrows and broke three ribs when thrown from a horse.

His discharge papers were lost when his home burned some time ago. Smith said Finley's service record is needed to complete his application for pension.

More than 75 tragedies a day are caused by children playing with matches, says the U. S. Office of Education.

Lauds Taft In House

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Senator Robert A. Taft, in the eyes of one of his fellow senators, "is the foremost figure in American public life."

That statement was made in the House of Representatives by Rep. Mason, Illinois Republican.

Mason went on to say that Taft will be the next President of the United States if he is re-elected to the Senate next year. He added:

"More money and effort will be expended against Taft than will be expended against all other senatorial and congressional candidates.

"If he comes through his senatorial battle in 1950 nothing can stop him form becoming the Republican presidential candidate in 1952.

"That means 'Bob and Martha' would occupy the rebuilt White House."

LOST 75 POUNDS WITH THIS HOME RECIPE

Mrs. Della Philabaum, Box 203, West Lafayette, Ohio writes, "I have lost 75 lbs. with Rennel in four months and have never known a hungry moment. I am so much lighter on my feet and have never felt better. Rennel has done a world of good for me."

Imagine, eat plenty and lose weight with this simple yet effective amazing home recipe. After purchasing a bottle of Rennel from your druggist pour the contents into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves—if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Don't be switched to another product, insist on genuine Rennel.

Elmer Earick, 29, of 132 Hedges street, has been sentenced to one to 20 years in the Ohio penitentiary by Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch on a plea of guilty to forgery.

Earick was arrested in Marion last July 1 on the charge, shortly after he had escaped from a Florida chain gang, officials said.

Survey Blames Machinery for Half of Farm Accidents

Reveals Homes Safest

Tractors Need Care In Handling

Out of a total of 400 accidents occurring on Huron county farms surveyed recently, 245 happened in field or farmyard and only 23 in the farm home The rest of the accidents, totaling 132, occurred off the farm either on business trips or recretaion Machinery of one type or another accounted for over half of the mishaps.

In August last year a number of Huron county farm organization leaders were called to a special meeting to determine what could be done about the high accident and death rate in farms in the county. The above figures are the result of a survey made by a committee headed by Robert M. Calhoun, farm planner for the Huron Soil Conservation district.

The committee was given the job of finding out where accidents were causing the most loss of time and life on the farm Twenty and three tenths per cent of the farms were contacted as a representative sample of the county

The majority of the accidents occurred to persons between the ages of 25 and 64, while farm people over 65 had the smallest number of accidents Persons between the ages of 15 and 24 had a total of 124 accidents while those between 25 and 64 had a total of 163 accidents

Motor vehicles accounted for 14.7 per cent of all accidents, tractors for 14.8 per cent, corn pickers and combines eight per cent and small farm tools such as saws, hammers, ladders, buzz saws and others accounted for a total of 28.5 per cnet.

The rest of the accidents were scattered in various farm operations and recreation

The survey reported that tractors were the most dangerous farm tool regardless of whether the son or the father operated them Tractors accounted for 3 5 per cent of the accidents on the highway. The committee says this may mean that tractors should be operated at lower speeds and only in daylight hours on the highway.

The Huron county Rural Safety committee said farm people should "study the results of the survey, which will be made up in printed form, so they might help themselves in decreasing the carelessness that has been the major cause of farm accidents."

Corn Crop In Tassel

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The weatherman says the 1949 corn crop is maturing nearly 30 per cent faster in some parts of the country than last year

In the chief corn state, Iowa, the weather bureau reports that 80 per cent of the crop has tasseled compared with only 58 per cent at this time in 1948.

Giving the weather picture a general once over lightly, it appears that more rain is badly needed in the west and south In the far west fair weather is favoring small grains and hay.

Cotton crops in Louisiana, Georgia and Alabama are badly in need of rain.

Agriculture officials are predicting glumly that Great Britain's new austerity program is going to wipe out foreign purchases of a great many American farm products Producers of apples, pears and grapes are expected to be particularly hard hit

Britain will also be buying less cotton and tobacco and fewer vegetables from this country

Bee Colonies Slashed 5%

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Ohio honey producers have five per cent fewer bee colonies this year than last, the federal - state crop reporting service said Tuesday

The number of colonies in state apiaries is placed at 305,000, compared to 321,000 in 1948 and to 373,000 two years ago.

The agency attributed the lower number of colonies to low prices for honey and the slow movement of honey on the market.

Plan Tour Of Research Station

Farmers Will Visit Coshocton

Richland county farmers will go on a soil conservation tour of the Coshocton soil conservation research station Aug. 5.

Some of the experiments being carried out at the station include use of instruments such as flumes which measure the water run off from the 1,000 acres of land operated by the research station.

Another instrument is the lysimeter which measures the perculation and evaporation of water through the soil and determines the amount of water that is used by the plants growing on the lysimeter.

The Cochocton lysimeter is the latest installation of its type in the nation.

A tour of the experiments conducted at the station will include trash - mulch seedings of pastures and meadows, as well as corn; treated pastures compared with untreated pastures; reforestation with pines and tulip poplar, strip cropping practices and terraces.

The group will meet at the county courthouse at 9 a. m. County agent C. N. McGrew said yesterday that those in the south end of the county may meet the group at the Loudonville High school at 9:30 a. m.

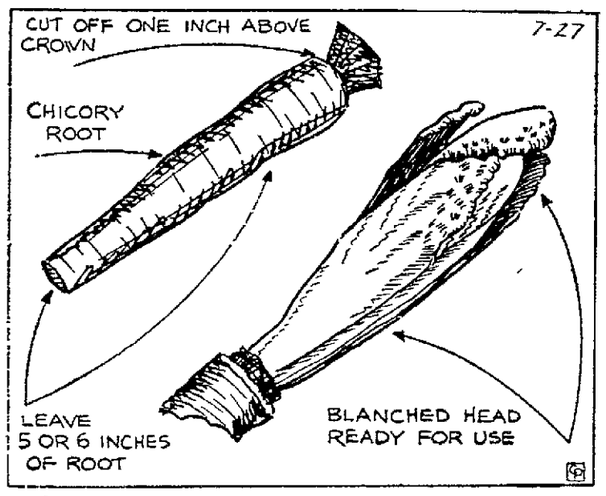
Today's Garden Graph

Winter Salads Grown Indoors



By DEAN HALLIDAY
Central Press Association

One can grow Witloof chicory, or, French endive, as a garden crop for summertime use, then use the roots to grow winter salads indoors As a garden crop it yields young tops which are cooked and eaten as greens In the winter it will produce young blanched shoots which make a delicious salad vegetable.

Throughout the summer encourage the chicory plants to make a strong growth by giving frequent and clean cultivation The first frosts will generally cause the leaves to drop and die, when the roots may be dug. They somewhat resemble a parsnip, as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph

When the roots have been dug cut off the tops about an inch above the crown, as illustrated Place them in a cool cellar and let them rest for a few weeks, protecting them against frost.

To produce salad heads of Witloof chicory, cut off the parsnip-like roots from below, leaving the remaining root 5 to 6 inches long, as illustrated Bury the roots upright in a box filled with damp sand Place the roots side by side, allowing about one inch space between them. Fill the box and cover the crowns with four or five inches of sand Keep in a temperature of about 60 degrees. In two or three weeks you will have blanched heads five or six inches long, as illustrated, which may be cut for use.

Claims the Man Who Orders Beer Is Rubbing Elbows With History

NEW YORK — Guess what Noah took into his ark—besides people—that also rode in the Mayflower and solaced the pilgrims.

Beer!

Yes, sir, and beer also went to the South Pole with Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd on his Antarctic expedition in 1939.

These and other little-known facts about beer have been compiled by the United States Brewers Foundation. They have been set forth in a little pamphlet designed to let the common man know what's behind the foam in his glass.

It shows that a gent who sidles up to the bar and says "pull one" isn't simply ordering a cooling drink. He's bending elbows with history.

Why, it says here, beer has marched step by step with man in his upward march since the dawn of time. Beer is as old as farming and has played a bubbling role in war, science, cooking, medicine and the development of a hundred modern industries.

Here are a few facts uncovered by the industry's scholars:

A Mesopotamian seal, baked in pottery and showing two workers at a brewery vat, proves beer was known 6,200 years ago.

When Christopher Columbus came to Central America in 1502, he found beer had traveled here before him. The Indians were escaping from the heat with "a sort of wine made of maize (corn), resembling English beer."

The phrase "mind your P's and Q's" is thought to have sprung from the old English tavern - keepers' custom of noting down customer orders — by pints and quarts.

John Alden, who wooed and won Priscilla Mullen, got passenger space on the Mayflower because he was a cooper and could repair the beer barrels aboard.

★

The first white child born in New York City, Jean Virne, became a brewer in what is now Wall street. William Penn, the Quaker, built a brewery next to his manor house.

Soldiers in the American revolution drew a quart of beer each in their daily rations. When the supply ran short George Washington begged the Board of War in 1777 to rush the growler for more.

Washington himself drank beer. Other members of this early day "men of distinction" club were Samuel Adams, a brewer himself, Thomas Jefferson, Patrick Henry, Israel Putnam and James Madison.

How did Joseph Priestley evolve his theory on life-giving qualities of oxygen? By studying bubbles rising to the surface of a beer vat.

Where was the first air-conditioning plant installed in America? In a brewery in Alexandria, Va., in 1880.

In 1810, the first year for which production figures are available, the American population of 7,239,881 drank 182,690 barrels of beer and ale, or 0.78 gallons per capita.

In 1948 the population had risen to 146,114,000, the consumption to 86,992,795 barrels, or a per capita record of 18.5 gallons. The industry now figures it employs 80,000 persons, buys $300,000,000 in farm products each year, pays out almost as much in salaries and some $900,000,000 in taxes.

Whether these figures will give the average beer drinker pause for thought or not, he will be interested in one thing. Beer during the American Revolution sold for about ten cents a gallon.

"But by today's standards it was not too great a bargain," says the Brewers' foundation. "It usually was heavy, cloudy and lacking in sparkle."

Blasts 'Overdone Flag-Waver' Show Written By Bob Sherwood

"Miss Liberty" is the outcome of Irving Berlin's worship of Robert E. Sherwood, because that pseudo-historian is "liberal." My own observations of the works of Sherwood have impressed me that they were the outpourings of a partisan professional political propagandist with a chronic affliction of New Dealitis.

How anyone, let alone the keen showman Irving has proven himself for two generations, could visualize Sherwood writing a libretto for a popular musical, even a semi-serious one, is to me incomprehensible. And if he did, why didn't the keen Moss Hart flag him? I never saw such a let-down lot of wise New Yorkers as those who had just come from the premiere of that inflated turkey. With its $500,000 advance sale banked, the town expected a Berlin supersmash.

What it got was an overdone and underinspired flag-waver, in the creaking cadences of the tall man whose forte has been biographies of Lincoln and apologia for Roosevelt and Hopkins.

I returned recently from Hollywood. There I induced Metro to run Irving's delightful "Easter Parade" for me — the seventh time. I saw "Holiday Inn" four times. I have reveled in stage-shows for which Irving not only composed the music, but functioned as the adviser and mastermind. He had been unerring in choosing collaborators, men of wit, spirit, taste, the common touch for entertainment — never "a man with a message."

When John Gunther's "Inside U.S.A." was conceived as the basis for a show with songs and dances, that washed up Gunther's contribution to it. He would have messed it up. For he, too, bears down with blaring ballyhoo for his theories and shaded sociological preachments. I have never mentioned either man in print before. Therefore I can plead not guilty of any prejudice against them, though I disagree with both.

I speak in anger now only because the sweep of "progressive" hysteria has invaded one realm that should have been left immune from clamor for "causes" and from their protagonists — humor.

Before Errol Flynn flew to Europe with John Perona he ordered his yacht to sail to the Mediterranean, where it will pick up his Romanian princess... Gloria De Haven has been the target for an irresponsible mischief-maker, who hooks her name up with that of an actor she scarcely knows. Gloria and John Payne have been reconciled and for a second honeymoon selected Lake Tahoe.

Sophie Tucker, after more than 40 years of travel, hotels and trouping, leased and furnished a posh apartment on Park Avenue, with three television sets, 2,000 pictures portraying her entire career, servants, exquisite decoration, everything for the home life she hadn't known since she was a child.

So she booked herself on the road up to the end of 1950. But during August she'll take a four-week vacation — in a hotel in Atlantic City.

Defendants Cleared In Bingo Case

Affidavits Ruled Out At Ashland

ASHLAND — Ashland's much publicized "bingo" case, growing out of a May police raid on a 40 et 8 club room party, apparently met sudden death Tuesday with the clearing of Earl Bribben and Glenn Galloway by Common Pleas Judge J. E. Culbertson.

The judge sustained the appeal filed protesting suspended $500 fines assessed against the pair by Police Judge Harold E. Andrews. The judge found prejudicial error in the case, the police court erred in overruling a demurrer to the affidavit and in admission of evidence.

Judge Culbertson found the affidavit insufficient in not stating the means of publication used by the accused who were charged with publicizing a lottery.

Specifically, the charge referred to post - cards mailed to the public announcing the operations at the cubrooms and inviting the recipients of the cards to attend.

There was "hardly a line of competent evidence in this whole record that is relevant to the case", Judge Culbertson said.

Replies To Charges of Prejudice

HYDE PARK, N. Y. — (INS) — Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt made public today her personal letter to Francis Cardinal Spellman denying the prelate's charge that she is "anti-Catholic."

She reiterated in the latter that she holds no bias toward the Roman Catholic church. With regard to the Cardinal's statement that she had been guilty of documents "unworthy of an American mother," she wrote:

"I assure you that I have no sense of being an 'unworthy American mother.' The final judgment, my dear Cardinal Spellman, of the worthiness of all human beings is in the hands of God."

Mrs. Roosevelt, in the letter dated July 23 — one day after publication of Cardinal Spellman's letter accusing her of an anti-Catholic stand by opposing federal aid to parochial or other private schools — said her opinion is unchanged.

"I have no intention of attacking you personally, nor of attacking the Roman Catholic church," Mrs. Roosevelt wrote, "but I shall, of course, continue to stand for the things in our government which I think are right."

Ordinance To Be Asked

The Citizens Committee for a Council-Manager form of city government will ask City Council next Wednesday night to prepare an ordinance placing the question of a city manager before the voters in the November election.

Al Preyer, committee chairman, said petitions gathered by the committee, will be presented to council when the request is made. The question to be put to the voters, as stated on the ordinance, would read: "Shall a commission be chosen to frame a charter?"

Preyer said that if the voters approve that, a commission of 15, chosen at the same election, will have a year to draw up a charter. That would later go to the voters for approval.

Preyer said the committee has 2,195 signatures on 96 petitions. The committee went over the petitions last night, throwing out signatures written in pencil. The next check will consist of going over the validity of the signatures, Preyer said. Approximately 1,800 signatures are required to get the question put on the ballot, Preyer said.

Gives Service Credit

Gov. Lausche Signs Measures

Mansfield police and firemen with more than 30 months service in the armed forces will benefit by a bill signed yesterday by Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

The new law, which becomes effective in 90 days, gives firemen and policemen full credit for service in the armed forces toward retirement.

Under the old law, only service up to 30 months counted toward retirement, Police Lt. John E. Steel said.

The number of police and fire department members who would be affected by the law was not immediately available today, but Lt. Steel of the police department said several of the members of his department were in the armed forces more than 30 months.

Two other bills signed by Gov. Lausche which restore all pensions of policemen's and firemen's widows and children to 1947 level, will probably have no effect here, City Auditor Paul L. Kelley said.

Work On Farm Plan

WASHINGTON—(INS) — Senate agriculture committee members predicted today that a bipartisan farm program will be in "rough draft" form before nightfall.

The senators went into a closed meeting confident that they will be able to work out legislation to counteract a one-year extension of wartime 90 per cent farm price supports approved by the House.

Sens. Anderson (D) N. M. and Aiken (R) Vt., said they were very close to an agreement which they believe will gain the support of both parties.

The compromise reportedly will contain two main provisions:

1. Price supports ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity under a formula based on the supply of each commodity. The Aiken bill range is 60 to 90 per cent, but a premium for farmers who submit to production controls would boost the lower figure to 72 per cent.

2. A provision stating explicitly that Commodity Credit Corporation funds can be used to support dairy products and other important non - basic commodities and making it clear that these non - basics are "storable."

Wandering 'Pete Parakeet' Glad To Be Home Again

By MARGUERITE MILLER

"Pete" the Parakeet, who took a fling at "wild life", settled down again today, seemingly quite content to nibble his breakfast toast at home

"Pete" who is the feathered pride of the David R. Becker household, 485 Diriam court, suddenly decided to wander Sunday afternoon when he rode out on the back porch on Mrs. Becker's shoulder.

Evidently aware that he was in the wide open spaces, "Pete" flew away amid the pleas and calls of the Becker household. A "posse" of the Beckers and neighbors scoured the neighborhood, but in vain.

They feared the worst for the meandering "Pete."

Then, Monday evening, Mrs. Hedges Princehorn of South Linden road, happened to be out in her back yard. Something suddenly descended on her head.

It was "Pete," a bit hungry. Unaware that the brilliantly-feathered bird belonged about a mile and a quarter away, Mrs. Princehorn took in "Pete" and fed him from the seed reserved for the Princehorn parrot.

Last night, Becker's ad for his lost pet was seen by Princehorns, who promptly notified the family. Becker snatched up "Pete's" cage and was off in a flash for the South Linden road home.

Today, "Pete" is back on Mrs. Becker's shoulder but he's not going out on the back porch any more.

"It was so lonesome without him around," Mrs. Becker said. "We've become so attached to him that it was almost like losing one of the family."

Mrs. Becker added that "Pete" seemed pretty happy over the reunion.

"He came out of his cage to have toast this morning, but he went right back. I think he's had his fling."
